A fisherman got such a reputation for stretching the truth that he bought a pair of scales and insisted on weighing every fish he caught, in the presence of a witness.

One day a doctor borrowed the fisherman's scales to weigh a newborn baby. The baby weighed forty-seven pounds.

A REAL GEORGE

Rejoicings In Belgrave Square

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 30.

"He's a real George." This was the comment yesterday of the few people privileged to visit the new Prince. They were emphatic about his resemblance to his father.

George, I learn from official sources, is among the probable names of this latest member of the Royal family. Nicholas is another. A third name may be David, after his uncle, the Prince of Wales.

Plans for the christening are already being made. The middle of November, shortly after the Duke of Gloucester's wedding, is suggested. The ceremony is expected to take place in the private chapel of Buckingham Palace.

The Duke of Kent gave a small family luncheon party yesterday at No. 3, Belgrave Square. Prince and Princess Nicholas were there. The Duchess of Kent's sister Countess Torrington, acted as hostess.

VANLOADS OF BOUQUETS

Flowers arrived literally by vanloads for the Duchess yesterday. Two vans were unloaded outside her house. They contained quantities of magnificent roses, dark red and yellow. White flowers included lilies and chrysanthemums, and among the blue and mauve flowers were violets and gentians.

Bouquets were also brought by chauffeurs in private cars. There was a long continued procession of blooms.

All the colours gave the effect of a rainbow against the all-white walls of the Duchess's bedroom. The task of arranging the flowers was a lengthy one.

TRADITIONAL CLOTHES

The Duchess of Kent will be able to wear the extremely comfortable and homely traditional dresses—somewhat inaccurately called "peasant" garments—which were among the presents from her Greek and Yugoslav friends.

There is nothing peasant-like about these dresses except their traditional shape and the significance of their embroideries. In the countries where the Duchess spent most of her youth—Serbia, Russia, Greece—such clothes are worn by the most aristocratic women in the privacy of their own homes.

NEEDLEWORK DECORATIONS

These garments are distinguished by the fineness of their fabrics and the lavishness of their needlework decorations from the rough skirts and shifts worn by peasant women at work.

Almost every village has its own distinctive feature, expressed in some differentiation of colour-weaving and embroidery.

The Duchess herself is deeply versed in these fine distinctions, having a large collection of specimens.

She is particularly fond of the special style of dress worn by the girls of the district in which her own romance developed, and intends to wear this more often than any other.

U.S. EMBARGO ON ARMS

"The Stigma Of Aggression"

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Mr. Cordell Hull, the Secretary of State, told the Press this morning in declaring a state of war and proclaiming an embargo had acted solely on its own initiative from the standpoint primarily of the affairs and interests of the American people and "without notice or collaboration with anybody anywhere."

This statement was made as a result of the inevitable attempt to secure from the Secretary of State some "interpretation" of the American action and, in particular, as a reply to the question whether the United States, in addition to the preservation of its own neutrality, should be understood as desiring to show sympathy with the efforts of the League of Nations to stop the war.
Every person, Mr. Hull said, was at liberty to put whatever interpretation he saw fit upon the American action, but he thought that the plain words of the President's statement and the two proclamations were sufficient guide.

Orders in the sense of the President's proclamation have been telegraphed to the seaboard ports of Boston, Philadelphia, New York,
Baltimore, Chicago, Galveston,
New Orleans, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, and Norfolk, Virginia. Revenue officers at those points have also been instructed that shipments of arms, ammunition, and implements of war as set forth in the list approved by the President should, if they were destined to French Somaliland, be held pending further instructions.

"LEAGUE CAN GO AHEAD"

Comment on the embargo proclamation and the President's statement in the American Press was none of that caution which the Secretary of State displayed this morning. The highly significant statement is described by the Baltimore Sun as a "plain warning that the Roosevelt Administration does not intend to stand upon its neutral rights, and will not seek to extend the protection of the American Government to citizens who, wishing to trade with Italy, may run afoul of the League blockade." Mr. Roosevelt, says the newspaper, could not have flatly declared that he would support the League blockade. First, he has not the legal authority to do so. Second, he could not very well state what his attitude would be in a situation that is still hypothetical. Nevertheless, he has indicated as pointedly as he could that so far as it lies within his power he will support the League in its effort to bring the Imperialist war in Africa to a halt. The League Powers... can now go ahead without fear of interference from this country. And they ought by all means to go ahead without delay.

The Washington Post considers that in spite of the juridical equality as between Ethiopia and Italy preserved by the proclamation.
"the stigma of aggression is virtually laid upon Italy by the President of the United States."

The Post finds a certain irony in the fact that the "declaration of neutrality should be the vehicle through which we add our weight to the gathering forces of collective action," and something of the same sort occurs to the New York Herald Tribune, though it describes as "obscure" the "processes of Roosevelt's foreign policy." What the newspaper calls his "mysterious statement" provokes these reflections:—

There is no specific authorization in the Neutrality Act for any such general withdrawal of protection as this implies; it does, on the other hand, fit exactly with the famous policy announced by Norman Davis in 1933, under which the United States would not assert her neutral rights against any Powers "carrying out a League blockade." That policy (never endorsed by the American people or Congress) was made specifically contingent upon the ratification of a disarmament treaty.
There is as yet no such treaty;
but it has been repeatedly assumed in Europe that the policy will be adopted; nevertheless, the President has never discouraged the idea, and this peculiar use of authority to warn Americans from

NAVAL LAUNCH

First For Many Years

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

H.M.S. Basset, a naval trawler, the first propelled vessel to be built for the Royal Navy on the Firth of Forth, was launched at Leith on Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Mrs. Brown, wife of the Minister of Labour.

The vessel has been built by Messrs. Henry Robb, Ltd., and is 150 feet in length with a displacement of 480 tons and a speed of 12 knots. Its armament consists of one 4-inch gun mounted forward.

At a tea to which the firm afterwards entertained their employees
Mr. Henry Robb, who presided, emphasised the importance of Leith in view of its proximity to the naval base at Rosyth as a centre where shipyard activities could be transferred at any moment, from peace productions to those of national defence.

He said he believed it to be of vital importance to our national defence that there should be in the neighbourhood a fully equipped modern shipyard with a highly skilled personnel available at any moment for the transfer.

CONSIDERATION FOR FORTH

Few people could remember the last vessel built for the Admiralty on the Firth of Forth, and he thought, therefore, the time had come when, in view of the extended naval programme which is to be put into operation, those in authority should consider seriously if some suitable portion of the new work should not be given to the East Coast of Scotland in order to maintain up-to-date shipping facilities in full production, so that its services might be instantly available in time of national emergency.

Mr. E. D. Meryon, superintendent of construction work at the Admiralty, said that further inquiries would surely be addressed to the firm in future. Tenders were under consideration, but he did not know what was likely to come of them.

ENTERPRISING FIRM

In proposing the toast of the firm, Mr. Ernest Brown, M.P., Minister of Labour, said the energy of Messrs. Henry Robb, Ltd., had been one of the few bright spots in shipbuilding in the neighbourhood in the years just behind them. Since they had been on the Admiralty list they had done the work entrusted to them with great success.

The continued enterprise of Henry Robb, Ltd., had made it possible for a number of the best shipyard workers in the country to retain their employment at one of the most vital crafts for this country.

The people of Leith might be quite sure that Messrs Robb would do everything they could to see that their enlarged yard has as good a share of Admiralty orders as its efficiency deserved.

The Basset has a total coal capacity of 180 tons. The engines are of the direct acting, surface condensing, triple-expansion marine type, working in conjunction with a cylindrical coal-fired boiler operated under the Howden forced draught system.

ships in the absence of a maritime war will only encourage the European belief.

REPUBLICAN CRITICISM

The Herald Tribune, it must be remembered, is a Republican organ, and as such is invariably critical of the President. "It does not like the admonition to Americans not to travel in ships of 'either belligerent,' when one belligerent is a completely landlocked Power, and calls it a startling 'perversion of the obvious intent of the Act.' Since the only effect will be to discourage Americans from travel in Italian ships, 'it is itself a kind of sanction,' and, furthermore, if Great Britain and France should apply League sanctions against Italian commerce, the "position would be that the United States had formally withdrawn her protection from any of her nationals travelling in Italian ships, but (in the absence of a further proclamation) would still be asserting her full neutral rights for the protection of her citizens on British or French ships against Italian reprisals." Here, then, by a circuitous route would be "full and unneutral" cooperation with the League.

THE AIR FORCE

Improved Conditions

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

An Air Ministry Order, No. A.248 of 1935, introduces revised scales of pay, emoluments, and conditions of service for members of the Princess Mary's Royal Air Force
Nursing Service.

The scale of pay on entry was previously £85, rising in 17 years to £110; it is now £90, rising in nine years to £125. The scale for Senior Sisters and Matrons are also improved and now run up to £140 and £250 respectively.

There will also be an increase in the number of substantive appointments in the grades of Matron and Senior Sister, which will allow a greater outlet from the grade of Sister, and will result in enhanced promotion prospects.
Provided that a member is duly certified as in all respects suitable for the higher rank, promotion to Sister will be after one year's service on full pay. Existing staff nurses who are already qualified for promotion under the new regulation will be promoted to Sister with effect from August 1, 1935.
Promotion to the rank of Matron and Senior Sister will be by selection within establishment.

Rates of retired pay are also revised upwards, the maximum yearly rates being increased to £225 in the case of Matrons and £140 for both Senior Sisters and Sisters, as compared with £170, £115, and £105 respectively at present. Rates of retiring gratuity to those permitted to retire voluntarily are increased from £250
after 10 years and £400 after 15 years' service to £325 and £500 respectively.

Applications for appointment should be addressed to the Matron-in-Chief, Princess Mary's R.A.F.
Nursing Service, Air Ministry, 5-6, Clement's Inn, W.C.2.

NAVAL ATTACHE AT TOKYO

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

The King has approved the appointment of Captain H. B.
Rawlings, O.B.E., R.N., as Naval Attache to H.M. Embassies at Tokyo and Peking, to date January
3, 1936. He will succeed Captain J. G. P. Vivian, R.N., who has held the post since January, 1933.

Captain Rawlings is at present attending the Imperial Defence College in London. He is a graduate of the Naval Staff College, and was made O.B.E. in recognition of his services as liaison officer with the British Military Mission to Poland in 1919-20.
During the War he was torpedo officer of the cruisers Antrim, Undaunted, and Coventry.

He last served afloat in command of H.M.S. Delhi as flag captain to the Rear-Admiral Commanding Third Cruiser Squadron, Mediterranean Fleet.

NEW POST OFFICE MACHINE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

The Mayors of Brighton and Hove will be present at the inauguration by the Post Office today of an important experiment in sorting letters, by machinery at the Brighton sorting office. The huge sorting machine, which has been under construction since May, is the first of its kind in this country.

A sorter at the existing tables can divide his letters only in a preliminary way to 48 boxes, and the large proportion of items necessarily sorted to miscellaneous groups at this first handling must be transferred to other nests of 48 pigeon-holes for more individual selection before they can be despatched. The new machine is 70 feet long, and practically the whole of its length on the floor level is occupied by 650 boxes, into which the letters fall after treatment by the sorters who are seated at keyboards on a platform above the machinery. Every town, or area of importance has its own number on the keyboard.

The letters are mechanically propelled towards the operator by a slowly moving belt, and he lifts each separately and drops it through an aperture with this right hand, at the same instant tapping the code number on his keyboard with his left hand. The letter is conveyed to the storage receptacle indicated by the operator's directional number. The machine has a total output of 24,000 finally sorted letters an hour.

TAXABLE VALUE OF NEW YORK

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.
The value of real estate in New York City for taxation purposes is estimated by the Department of Taxes and Assessments at $15,952,747,571 (nearly $3,200,000,000), a reduction of $146,000,000 from last year's total. When increases for improvements and equalizations are taken into consideration this reduction is, however, almost entirely offset.

The indicated tax rate for 1935 is $2.63 per $100 of assessed valuation, a decrease of 8 cents. The most highly assessed buildings are the Equitable, $29,000,000 ($25,800,000), the Empire State, $28,500,000, and the Radio Corporation of America, $26,000,000. The Waldorf Astoria leads the hotels with an assessment of $22,500,000. The total for all the buildings in Radio City is $35,600,000.

MONEY OUTLOOK FOR OCTOBER

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.
Lombard street enters on the last quarter of the year under practically similar conditions to those which have prevailed for the past months. Whether the same conditions will continue to characterise the Money Market during the next three months, or even during the present month, is, however, by no means certain.

An element of uncertainty has been introduced by the international political situation. Decisions are pending which may involve this country in greatly increased military expenditure necessitating fresh borrowing by the Government.

As it is, the floating debt has been increased by over $80,000,000 since the close of the financial year, principally by heavier borrowings on Treasury Bills, which now stand at $205,000,000 compared with $223,000,000 at this time last year. Whether a more permanent form of borrowing will be adopted depends large on political developments.

For the moment the slowing-down of investment buying on the Stock Exchange, and the check imposed on business generally by the present unsettled international situation are keeping money idle. Lombard Street has ample supplies of credit which are being augmented to-day by the October dividend payments.

Money, therefore remains easy for the moment. A definite termination of the present state of uncertainty in whichever direction is likely to stimulate a demand for money and lead to higher rates than the market has seen for some time past.

NEW ORIENT LINER

Sister To The Orion

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

The Orient Steam Navigation Company, who have recently taken delivery from Vickers-Armstrongs, Limited, of the R.M.S. Orion, now on her maiden voyage to Australia, announce that they have entered into a contract with Vickers-Armstrongs, Limited, to construct another steamer of similar size and power for their Australian mail service. The general arrangement of the new ship will be modified in the light of recent experience.

Our Shipping Correspondent writes:—

The Orion is of about 24,000 tons gross and is similar in size to the new P. & O. liner Strathmore, which, like the Orion, was built by Vickers-Armstrongs. What the construction of such a vessel means in employment was indicated recently by Mr. Alexander Shaw, chairman of the P. & O. He said that from first to last the building of the Strathmore, had given, on a conservative estimate, 1,350,000 "man days" of work. In other words she had provided work, directly and indirectly for 3,500 people for 18 months. Again on a conservative estimate of the number of married men and the size of their families, this meant that the vessel had provided subsistence for 14,000 British people and had rendered them reasonably happy when otherwise they would have been unemployed.

CINEMA TRADE NOTICES

CARDINAL RICHELIEU

Among his many distinctions, George Arliss can number that of having introduced the screen public to more historical characters than any other actor.

His latest characterization in the title role of Darryl Zanuck's lavish 20th Century production of "Cardinal Richelieu," which comes to the King's Theatre on Saturday brings this distinguished artist's total of vivid portraits of famous men to six.

No other star symbolizes this type of screen portraiture to the public mind. The difficulties involved are the main assurance against competition. The interpretation of historic characters requires more preparation and study than others, and the star who essays them must have the courage to expose himself as a target for criticism.

And yet, it is precisely in this type of film that George Arliss has won his greatest fame. Such pictures as "The Working Man," "The Millionaire," and "The Last Gentleman" proved his fine talent for comedy. But it is to his portraits of "Disraeli," "Voltaire," "Alexander Hamilton," the Duke of Wellington in "The Iron Duke" and Nathan Rothschild in "The House of Rothschild" that he owes the fact that his own name will go down in large and shining letters when the history of the cinema is written.

His preparation for undertaking the characterization of "Cardinal Richelieu," the diplomatist-prelate who became the power behind the throne of France, offers an insight into the serious and thoughtful manner in which Arliss approaches a role of such heroic proportions, and probably also explains why most stars are reluctant to undertake such a role.

BECKY SHARP

The sparkling, vivacious heroine of Thackeray's famous "Vanity Fair" comes to the screen in Pioneer Pictures' full-coloured feature "Becky Sharp" hobnobbed with some of the great men of history in her fictional career. Men were her specialty. The fighting Duke of Wellington was one of them. And the Prince Regent, who later became George IV, was another. She never met Napoleon Bonaparte, but she did come within ear-shot of his cannon, since he provided, in his attack on Waterloo, the big crisis of her heart career. It was the little Cornelia's escape from Elba that brought the English military forces hurriedly into Brussels. Becky's irresponsible husband was an English officer. Becky, with other wives and ladies of the court, went along and seized the opportunity to elevate herself socially, to the realization of her most cherished ambition her course being paved with the bruised hearts of duped men. Becky was at the height of her glory at the Duchess of Richmond's ball. When she had every man at her feet and every woman wishing to be at her throat, the ominous booming of cannon set the great hall in a frenzied turmoil. The shadow of the little Emperor passed across the assembly and terrified it as all of the capitals of Europe had been terrified. Becky alone was undisturbed. Men's lives might be forfeit. Nations might crumble. Her own husband might be killed. But Becky was triumphant, and that was all that mattered to Becky. Miriam Hopkins, blonde and spirited star of the screen brings this amazing character of fiction brilliantly to life in "Becky Sharp." This RKO-Radio Picture was produced by Rouben Mamoulian, with colour composition by Robert Edmond Jones.

THE ARIZONIAN

A break from a flaming wooden jail is one of the highlights in the new Richard Dix picture, "The Arizonian," now screening at the Queen's Theatre.

Dix portrays a two-fisted marshal striving to end lawlessness in the West and protect his brother and sweetheart. He encounters a mob of politicians and gunmen, headed by Louis Calhern, in the role of the sheriff. The battle between the forces of the marshal and those of the sheriff rages until a frame-up causes the arrest of Dix, and his loyal supporters. As a thrilling climax to the arrest, the sheriff sets fire to the wooden jail, common in the early '80's, and leaves Dix and his partners to be burned to death. Their rescue and subsequent annihilation of the outlaws by the marshal is said to make "The Arizonian" one of the most exciting pictures of the year.

COSSACK LEADER HELPS JAPAN

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

About 130 Russians, Chinese and Koreans have been thrown into the already overcrowded prisons here, following an intensive anti-Communist drive and heavy hunt by Japanese police.

The police have co-operated with the special "White" Russian Commission under the former Cossack leader, Attaman Semenov, noted for his ruthlessness.

Harbin has been wildly excited under the drive, which has lasted several weeks. Reds and whites alike have disappeared, until some have been traced to prison. Many have been repatriated to Russia or charged with dangerous thoughts against Manchukuo.

This city and the neighbouring districts have been combed by police informers to end the "spymania" plague.

THE KING'S
Excellent Film

"The Farmer Takes A Wife" may sound like a picture fit for children only but those who hold that opinion will find that they are very much mistaken if they pay a visit to the King's Theatre where the film is being shown.

The film is a love story between a daughter of the water and a son of the soil, the leading parts being ably taken by Janet Gaynor and Henry Fonda. Fonda, who years to have a farm of his own comes to work as a boat driver in the canals when he meets Janet Gaynor and falls victim to her charms. Charles Bickford who has also fallen in love with the young lady is anxious to do him battle for her affection and then exciting times follow.

Surmounting one difficulty after another, Fonda finally wins the girl but the trouble is that while he is devoted to the land, she is equally fond of the waterways. What follows brings a fitting climax to one of the best love stories seen on the local screen for many a long day.

Preceding the feature film are two extremely interesting shorts and on the whole the current programme offered by this popular theatre is very acceptable fare.

CANADA ENJOYING
BRITISH FILMS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

British films are popular in Canada, and British actors, and actresses are becoming better known to cinema audiences in the Dominion. A report from the British Senior Trade Commissioner in Canada to the Department of Overseas Trade, issued yesterday, states that an estimate of the revenue derived by producers in the United Kingdom from the Canadian market last year shows an increase of approximately 25 per cent. over the figures for 1933.

While the number of United Kingdom pictures of exceptional quality has not increased, the quality of the average United Kingdom picture is higher, the report says. This is shown by the fact that, although foreign film production increased during 1934, with the result that competition was intensified, the United Kingdom product was able to hold its own.

The greater popularity of British films can be ascribed, not only to improved quality, but to the fact that United Kingdom actors and actresses are becoming better known to Canadian cinema audiences. Considerable importance still attaches to what is called "star value."

Distributors state that 1934 was their most successful year since United Kingdom talking pictures were introduced to the Canadian market.

MR. ANTHONY DE
ROTHSCHILD INJURED

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Mr. Anthony de Rothschild, the financier and racehorse owner, dislocated a shoulder on Saturday afternoon when he was thrown from his horse while following the Whaddon Chase foxhounds after a cubbing meet near Epsom, Bucks.

He was taken to Aylesbury Hospital and later returned to Ascott House, Leighton Buzzard. He was afterwards reported to be fairly comfortable.

GEORGE ARLISS
Once Sang On Stage

To attempt to picture the dignified George Arliss, who brings his latest historical characterization to the screen of the King's Theatre on Saturday in the title role of Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century production of "Cardinal Richelieu," blithely singing his way through a musical comedy is to tax the imagination almost beyond the bounds of reason.

But the screen's most distinguished character star actually earned his living in exactly this fashion during one season early in his career. He admits that his singing voice was pretty dreadful and after that season he kept a promise to himself not to let it happen again.

Arliss was born in London on April 10, 1868. He indulged his childhood ambition to act by putting on amateur theatricals in the basement of a small friend's home.

At his father's insistence, he spent a year in his publishing house. Then he joined the old Elephant and Castle stock company, playing in blood and thunder "melodramas."

Tours of the English provinces with various stock companies followed and then came the memorable singing season.

He met his wife in a theatrical school and proposed to her because she had "nice arms."

After a number of appearances with Mr. P. Campbell's London company he accompanied her stock company to America, and met with such great success that he remained here. After appearing in "The Darling of the Gods" and several plays with Mrs. Fiske, he was starred in "The Devil," "Septimus" followed and then "Disraeli," in which he played for five years. Then came "Paganini," "Hamilton" and "The Green Goddess."

He entered the then silent films at this point and made "The Devil," "The Ruling Passion," "The Green Goddess" and "Disraeli." Arliss returned to the stage to star in "Old English" and toured the country in "The Merchant of Venice."

The arrival of "Talkies" induced him to return to films to remake "Disraeli" and "The Green Goddess." Has since achieved a brilliant screen career, highlights of which were "The Millionaire," "The Working Man," "Voltaire" and, since joining Zanuck and Joseph M. Schenck's 20th Century Pictures Company, releasing through United Artists, "The House of Rothschild," "The Last Gentleman" and the current "Cardinal Richelieu." During a trip to England in the course of which he did intensive research for "Richelieu," he made "The Iron Duke," in which he portrayed the Duke of Wellington.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

The Duke of Connaught will spend the first part of the winter at Bath, leaving London in November. For the last four years the Duke has spent part of his winter holiday at Sidmouth, usually spending the latter part of the season at his villa at Cap Ferrat, near Cannes. The Duke has taken a winter holiday for reasons of health since the War.

Developments
At Greenock

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

The extension of Princes Pier, Greenock, to provide a new deep water berth capable of accommodating Transatlantic liners and large cargo vessels is thought to be a possible outcome of reconstruction and other schemes at the pier.

Greenock Harbour Trustees have been carrying out for some time reconstruction work at Princes Pier, and during the past year over £4,000 has been expended. A detailed examination of the structure of the pier has been completed by the new engineer, and in his report to the Trustees he reveals that heavy expenditure will be necessary before it can be put into a satisfactory condition.

SOLID WHARF PLAN
It is estimated that nearly £50,000 would be required to carry out the work, and consideration is being given to a scheme for replacing the front of the pier and filling it in to give a solid wharf.

It is felt that when important work of this kind is contemplated the time might be opportune for embarking on the larger project of extending the pier to provide a new deep water berth.

This scheme was recently outlined by Provost Bell, who met representatives of local firms and discussed the matter with a view to having a plan submitted to Sir Arthur Rose, Commissioner for the Special Areas in Scotland, to see if a Government grant could be given.

JAPANESE POLICY IN CHINA

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Within a few days Mr. Morishima, of the Japanese Foreign Office, Major-General Okamura, of the General Staff, and Captain Honda, of the Naval General Staff, will leave for China. All three are chiefs of the sections dealing with Chinese affairs in their respective departments. As officially described, their mission is to acquaint the diplomatic, military, and naval officers stationed in China with the Government's policy.

The Government's action follows recent utterances by high Japanese officers in China advocating the separation of the five northern provinces from Nanjing, and apparently implies that those statements do not correctly represent that policy.

The vernacular newspapers continue to speak of a new China policy. The Cabinet is said to have given its approval. Officials deny that the Cabinet has considered changes in the China policy, though Mr. Hirota, the Foreign Minister, has consulted Mr. Takahashi, the Finance Minister, on economic questions relating to China. A more effective coordination between the Tokyo Government and the Army overseas appears to be the objective of the mission.

Press reports of plans for economic cooperation between Japan, North China, and Manchukuo are persistent, though tangible information about their nature is lacking. Mr. Matsuo, recently stated that the South Manchuria Railway had sent representatives to North China to investigate possibilities.

ROAD BRIDGE

Rock Site Favoured

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

The Earl of Elgin, in a statement to the press yesterday, defined the attitude adopted by the Fifehire authorities in regard to the Fife Road Bridge scheme.

Lord Elgin's statement was made at the close of a meeting of the Fife Road Bridge Committee, held in private in Kirkcaldy.

After referring to "the many and varied misrepresentations of Fife's position given in public speeches," Lord Elgin declared that Fife's guiding principle had been—"The best bridge, at the best site, at the best price."

Towards that end, he said, Fife had always been willing to consider any project and to bear her share in any practical investigation.

He recalled how the County Council had set up a committee in November, 1929, which had remained in existence continuously to examine all claims.

THE FIRST PROPOSAL

The first proposal to be examined was that of Messrs McTear and Anderson for a bridge at a cost of £26,110,000. That scheme, however, had not commended itself to the committee. He went on to say that Fife had then taken the initiative in presenting two other proposals for consideration.

One of these schemes—the Kincairdine Bridge—was a ready nearly completed.

The other scheme, which contemplated a bridge crossing the river about Rosyth and bringing into practical use part of the dockyard and its approaches had been submitted to other local authorities and to the Government in 1931, and was approved by all as being worthy of serious consideration.

The national economy campaign had intervened, and in 1934 another proposal was submitted by Messrs Hott, Hay and Anderson for a bridge at the Mackintosh Rock, at an estimated cost of £4,000,000.

SURVEYS COMPLETED
Fife had refused to accept this scheme without investigation, but had agreed to contribute her share of the cost of an engineering survey, and Fife had also insisted that the survey in connection with the Rosyth scheme, which had been approved previously at an estimated cost of £2,750,000, should be completed. These surveys had now been completed, and the reports had been submitted by their respective engineers.

Summarising the position revealed in these two reports, said Lord Elgin, "it appears that the bridge is a practical proposition at either site and that the cost will be very similar, but it should be pointed out that a more liberal allowance had been made for approach roads at Rosyth than at the Mackintosh Rock site.

In arriving at any definite conclusion as to participation in costs Fife has had to consider her island position and the call from her neighbours on the north for a bridge across the Tay. Fife had also, he continued, had to consider very seriously the economic justification, as indicated by public opinion and by the willingness of her neighbours to bear a fair share of the capital and maintenance charges.

ESTIMATED COST REDUCED

Hitherto, one or other of these conditions had appeared to be wanting, but there seemed to be sufficient grounds now for recommending the County Council to take definite action regarding the Mackintosh Rock scheme, particularly in view of the fact that the main result of the engineers' survey had been to reduce the estimate at this site by £750,000.

The committee, said Lord Elgin, had decided to recommend that attention now be concentrated on the Mackintosh Rock site.

The committee pointed out that having regard to the special position of Fifehire and her possible interests in three bridges, it was essential in the interests of the ratepayers that full and adequate consideration be given to the financial commitment with a view to limiting Fife's contribution to the cost and maintenance of all bridges.

The committee recommended that, subject to the adjustment of satisfactory arrangements, the County Council should co-operate with other interested local authorities towards the provision of a bridge across the Forth and towards the provision of a bridge across the Tay.

The committee decided to accept an invitation to attend a conference of local authorities in Edinburgh on October 14.

AROUND THE COURTS

COUNTERFEIT COINS

Lee Liu appeared before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday, charged with uttering 19 counterfeit Chinese 20-cent pieces, and possession of 91 counterfeit Chinese 20-cent pieces, at No. 81 Connaught Road Central.

Inspector K. W. Andrew, prosecuting, stated that at 1.30 o'clock on Tuesday, he sent an old man with a marked $10 note to the Tak Cheong money-changer's shop at No. 81 Connaught Road Central, where defendant was employed. Acting on the instructions of Inspector Andrew, the old man changed the note for Chinese 20-cent pieces. He received a bundle of coins amounting to $14.60 and when he had emerged from the shop, the Inspector made his presence known.

Inspector Andrew then entered the shop, and in defendant's presence, opened the bundle of coins and found that 19 were counterfeit, amounting to $3.80. By virtue of a search warrant, the shop was searched, and in a drawer, a tray was found. Six rows of the tray were empty, but in the fourth row, $2.20 was found, in the fifth $3.20, in the sixth $3.60, in the seventh $5, with another loose coin lying in front of the tray and another in front of the counter, making a total of 72 coins, all counterfeit. Together with the 19 coins found in the original roll, 91 counterfeit coins were discovered in the shop.

In the same drawer, two small baskets were found, containing respectively $7.40 and $9. Chinese 20-cent pieces, all good. The total of all good money found in the shop did not exceed $115 Hong Kong money.

DELIBERATE CASE

In the shop itself, on a shelf at the rear and exposed to the view of the public, were found rolls purporting to be coins, which would amount to $1,950 if genuine, but in fact they were nothing but empty tins wrapped in paper with the name of the firm stamped on the outside. Defendant was the only person in the shop at the time, and he told the police that he was a fool. He stated he did not know where the licensee was, and could not communicate with him. He may have been somewhere in Canton.

Inspector Andrew said that it was a deliberate case of swindle, and there was no doubt that this type of money-changer's shop existed solely for the purpose of defrauding their victims.

On the first charge, accused was sentenced to six weeks hard labour and on the second charge a fine of $300, or three months' hard labour was imposed. The counterfeit coins were ordered to be confiscated and destroyed.

SNATCHER GAOLED

Sentence of 4 months' hard labour was imposed by Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday on Sze Ching Hon, 26-year-old unemployed, who was convicted for larceny from person of 1 leather wallet containing $35 in money at Wing On Street on Tuesday.

Acting Sub-Inspector Smith prosecuting, He stated that complainant was on the day in question walking along Wing Lok Street at about 1.30 p.m. with a parcel under each of his arms. Defendant bumped into him, and looking down at his pocket, he found his wallet gone. Complainant turned round and saw defendant tucking the wallet under his girdle. A constable arrested defendant.

Defendant said that he picked up the wallet from the ground and did not want to let any of them see that he had the wallet. However, defendant later admitted the charge and asked to be given a chance.

LARCENY OF GOLD METAL

Before Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday, Lam Nga Tat, 17 year of age, described as a street coolie, was charged with the larceny of a piece of gold metal at Wing Sing Long gold-smith shop, 63 Bonham Street East. He was convicted and sentenced to 1 month's hard labour.

Defendant denied having been convicted last year for larceny. Defendant was said to have entered the complainant's shop and from a counter, which was a little open, took out the metal which was worth about $40. He tried to run away but was caught by a Chinese constable. Defendant was running out of the shop when the complainant saw him and raised the alarm.

DOG SUMMONSES

Summoned before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday at the Central Magistrate's Court for allowing his dog to wander on the Naval Recreation Ground without a muzzle on October 17, Mr. Dwyer of No. 111 Leighton Hill Road pleaded guilty through his solicitor, Mr. A. el Arculli, and was fined $5.

Mr. Arculli said that the dog was out under the care of a servant and was on a lead but had no muzzle. Some boys were playing football and the ball happened to be kicked near the dog which broke loose from the lead and put its paws on the ball. One of the boys tried to take the ball away from the dog and was bitten, but had the boy asked the servant to get the ball for him, the incident would never have happened.

The boy was treated at the hospital and received several injections and the dog had been under observation but was found to be all right.

Madam J. Masseboeuff, of Macdonnell Road, admitted a summons of allowing her mongrel dog to wander out without a muzzle on October 12 and was fined $5.

SUMMONED BY WIFE

A house boy, Tang Hon Chih, of No. 3 May Road, third floor, was yesterday summoned by his "kit fat" wife before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistrate's Court on August 1 last deserted and neglected to provide reasonable maintenance for her.

An application by Mr. C. E. L. Grist, who appeared for the complainant, for an adjournment because he had only just received instructions was granted, and the hearing was fixed for 2.30 p.m. to-day. Mr. F. G. Nigel was for the defence.

The complainant was Lo Lan, married woman living at No. 183 Lockhart Road.

UNSUCCESSFUL APPEAL

Six Chinese who were convicted and fined $100 each by the Kowloon Magistrate, Mr. W. M. Thomson last month, unsuccessfully brought an appeal against their conviction before the Chief Justice, Sir Abell MacGregor, at the Supreme Court yesterday.

The appellants were Chung Nga-tai, Chan Shuen, Kam Muk-chun, Tsang Lam-kun, Yeung Lam-tai and Chan Kong, who were convicted for assaulting Yau Mo-lung, Chairman of the Chinese National Athletic Association.

Mr. Hin-Shing Lo, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall, appeared for the appellants, and Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith, Assistant Crown Solicitor, was for the Crown. The respondent, Lau Mo-lung, was not in Court.

CASE TO BE RE-HEARD

Chan Chi-ling, 62, unemployed convicted last week on a charge of deceiving a boy, aged three years and three months, from outside 45 Staunton Street, made another appearance before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Police Court yesterday, when Mr. R. C. H. Lim applied for re-hearing of the case. The prisoner was sentenced to one year.

Mr. Lim submitted that one ground was sufficient, namely that accused was not legally represented at the first hearing.

His Worship: That in itself is not a sufficient ground.
Mr. Lim: There are other grounds. We have further evidence supporting a plea of not guilty.
Hearing was fixed for November 7 at 2.30 p.m.

CUTTING WILD WOOD

At Central Magistrate's Court yesterday a Chinese named Chan Hung, aged 27, was charged before Mr. Schofield with possession of 71 catties of wild wood along Is and Road and was bound over.

Mr. J. R. Carr, of the Botanical and Forestry Department, stated it was dead wild wood. People were making a habit of walking along the ditchwater cutting trees. Sergeant Dalhousie stated that he had nothing known of the defendant.

Yip Yau, 31, coolie, was similarly dealt with for possession of 37 catties of wild tree wood. Sergeant MacDonald said the man was arrested in Chiu Street, Wanchai. Defendant stated that he formerly worked at the Tai Kok Sugar Refinery.

SMART WORK

"I think I have to congratulate the police in the work they have done in this case," said Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday after he had passed sentence on two Chinese who appeared before him charged with the possession of a revolver and four rounds of ammunition and also with conspiracy to commit a crime of violence.

It was revealed that the police on October 18 by some smart precautionary methods nipped a crime in the bud, by arresting the two principal characters before they had time to commit a robbery.

The two Chinese in question were Ma Kwan, and Ng Yiu Po, alias Ng Sing, and the former in addition to the two charges mentioned above, also faced a charge of possession of an instrument fit for an unlawful purpose.

Both defendants pleaded guilty to possession and conspiracy, and were sentenced to 12 months and 6 months each on the respective charges.

Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham in giving the facts of the case said that on October 18 at 8 p.m. Inspector Portallion of the Morgue Police Station received information that an armed robbery was in take place at No. 67 Tung Choi Street between 7.30 and 8 o'clock that evening. Inspector Portallion dispatched some men and confined them to a narrow circle about the flat in question. Mr. Thomson, D.S.P. (K), witness himself, Inspector Portallion and Sgt. Ellis took up various posts around the flat.

Shortly after 8 p.m. a Chinese detective informed witness, who at the time was with Mr. Thomson, D.S.P. (K), that two Chinese were observed to go up the stairway of No. 65 Tung Choi Street. Witness together with Mr. Thomson at once went to the flat but found no one there. As they regained the street, first defendant was brought to them in the custody of some Chinese detectives who said that they had arrested them at the junction of Tung Choi Street and Nelson Street. Defendant then took them to No. 497 Reclamation Street, third floor, where inquiries disclosed that he was not known, but that another man (who subsequently turned out to be the second defendant) was known there, and in fact lived and worked at this address.

REVOLVER FOUND

Two Chinese detectives were left at the house, while the main party together with the first defendant returned to the station. At 10 p.m. that evening, second defendant was brought to the station, where after cross examination he admitted that he possessed a revolver but that he had hidden it in No. 73 San Tung Street. Sgt. Ellis accompanied defendant to the address in question, where a revolver loaded with four rounds of ammunition was found wrapped up in newspaper in a basket. The basket was said to be the property of a Chinese who had since absconded.

When first defendant was taken to the station, it was found that he was wearing two suits of clothing. "He would have discarded one suit after the crime," said the prosecuting officer, "so as to make it all the more difficult for the police to arrest him." "In view of the recent crime wave, I would ask your Worship to take a serious view of the case," concluded Sub-Inspector Cunningham.

MUI TSAI CASES

Several "mui-tai" prosecutions came before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday. Inspector T. O'Connor prosecuting. Summoned for failing to report the intended removal of registered "mui-tai," Sui Shui-ling, 18, a widow, Chan Ho-sze, aged 65, of 18A Shaukwan Road, was fined $10.

Inspector O'Connor informed the Court: the girl was married as a "kit fat" wife in Tung Tau village, Nam Hol, in March, 1931. The defendant's son was the owner of a factory at 18A Shaukwan Road.

In the second case Lo Yueh, 28, widow, of 231 Queen's Road East, third floor, was fined $5 for failing to report the death of the former employer of registered "mui-tai," Lui Choi-hi, aged 17.

Inspector O'Connor stated that on October 18 the defendant came with the girl to the S. C. A. office to cancel the girl's status as a "mui-tai," as she had obtained employment as a polisher in an electric torch factory. It was then discovered that her former employer, the defendant's husband had died on July 24 and the girl had been with the defendant since then. The girl was well treated.

Siu Sau-man, 38, married woman, of 6 Fung Fai Terrace, second floor, was fined $10 for failing to report the disappearance of her registered "mui-tai," Siu Chun-yin, 17, during July last.

Inspector O'Connor stated that on June 29 the defendant sent her male servant to the Central Police Station charge room. This man asked the Inspector-on-Duty if it were serious for an employer's domestic servant to run away and was told that it was not so long as notice had been given. The man was then under the impression the girl was a domestic servant and not a "mui-tai."

The girl was last seen on May 22 by the Lady Inspector and appeared to be well treated and had nothing to complain about.

One month's hard labour was passed upon Tsang Loi, 32, unemployed when he pleaded guilty before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday to the theft of two pieces of water piping from No. 3 Hankow Road on Tuesday. Detective-Sergeant R. Davies stated, that the piping, was left lying in the yard, and defendant managed to enter the premises by the back door.

For removing a white chow bitch from Hong Kong to Kowloon City without a permit from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon on Tuesday, Ling Koi, 41, vegetable gardener, was brought before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday and a fine of $25 with the alternative of one month's hard labour was imposed. Defendant pleaded that the bitch was only one month old.

The possession of 317 "po-pin" lottery tickets was admitted by Wan Leung, 22, unemployed, when he appeared before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday. Defendant was arrested in Des Voeux Road West near Sutherland Street. Inspector Hourihan said the tickets were wrapped up in paper. Defendant admitted a previous conviction for stealing. A fine of $250, or three months, was imposed, and the tickets were ordered to be destroyed.

AMBULANCE BRIGADE INVESTITURE

Pleasing Ceremony At The Headquarters

In recognition of valuable services rendered to the St. John Ambulance Brigade in Hong Kong, five leading members of the community were invested with Venerable Orders of St. John of Jerusalem by His Excellency, the Officer Administering the Government, the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith at the Brigade Headquarters yesterday evening.

His Excellency the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith who was accompanied by Mr. J. H. B. Lee (Private Secretary) and Capt. W. J. B. Crax, A.D.C., said at the close of the function that he was very glad to have performed the function because when he was asked he was promised that there was going to be no speech making. The function had to be performed at very short notice because in another 24 hours he would relinquish his post to Sir Thomas Southern who was going to assume the position of Officer Administering the Government again.

There was a large gathering of friends and members of the Brigade present. Those who were seated on the platform with His Excellency, the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith were: His Lordship, the Right Rev. Bishop Valerius, Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, Hon. Dr. A. R. Wellington, Hon. Dr. S. W. T'so, Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Messrs. Ip Lan Chuen, Mok Kon Sang, while others present included, the Hon. Dr. W. B. A. Moore, Messrs. E. Raymond, Ho Kom Tong, Ng Wah, Fung Heung Chuen, Dr. Ma Luk and many others.

After the arrival of His Excellency, the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith the following then received their insignia from him:

The Hon. Sir William Shenton, Kt. from "Officer" (Brother) to "Commander" (Brother) of the Order.

Mr. Au Boon Haw (Silver Donat Badge) admitted to the Order with the rank of "Officer" (Brother).

Mr. Chau Man Chi (Silver Donat Badge) admitted to the Order with the rank of "Officer" (Brother).

Mr. Tang Shiu Kin admitted to the Order with the rank of "Officer" (Brother).

Mr. Ip Kwai Chung (Bronze Donat Badge) admitted to the Order with the rank of "Serving Brother."

SIR WM. SHENTON

The Hon. Sir William Shenton, Kt. was supported by Mr. Ho Kom T'g on his right and the Hon. Dr. W. B. A. Moore on his left while the other four recipients were supported by Mr. A. Morris and the Hon. Dr. W. B. A. Moore. Addressing the recipients His Excellency said:

You have acted as Honorary legal adviser to the St. John Ambulance Association and Brigade with the substantive rank of District Officer in the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Your many legal services to the Organisation were recognised by Great Priory of which the Sovereign Head, His Majesty the King, sanctioned your admission to the Order of St. John of Jerusalem with the rank of Officer in 1932. Your outstanding achievements are embodied

(a) in the Ordinance of Incorporation of the St. John Ambulance Association and Brigade.

(b) in the working agreement between, and the subsequent amalgamation of "The New Territories Medical Benevolent Society" working under the direction and organisation of Sir Ely Kadoorie, Mr. L. Kadoorie, Mr. J. E. Joseph, Mr. F. A. Joseph, Mr. E. M. Raymond, Professor Gerrard and Dr. Arthur Woo—with the Organisation of St. John also operating in the New Territory, of which new combination you are now President.

(c) in your many services in an advisory capacity.

(d) in your position as our official representative between the Organisation of St. John and Government.

You are now promoted in the Order to the rank of Commander as a further token of appreciation of your manifold services and in view of your impending retirement from active service in Hong Kong; and I have very great pleasure in investing you with the insignia of that rank.

MR. AW POON HAW

You were awarded the Silver Donat Badge of the Order in 1934 for your gift of $43,435 in the form of the Aw Poon Hospital at Cheung Chau. You are now admitted to membership of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, with the sanction and approval of His Majesty the King, Sovereign Head of the Order, with the rank of Officer Brother Associate, and I have very great pleasure in investing you with the insignia of that rank.

MR. CHAU MAN CHI

You were awarded the Silver Donat Badge of the Order in 1934 for the joint gift from yourself and family of $70,000, this sum being donated towards the erection of this Headquarter Building which is to commemorate the association of your father, the late Mr. Chau Yue Teng, J.P., with the St. John Ambulance Association and Brigade, as well as to perpetuate his memory and works of benevolence, especially in connection with the Medical work inaugurated in the New Territories, and of which he was a most ardent admirer and supporter.

With the sanction and approval of His Majesty the King, Sovereign Head of the Order, you are now admitted to the Order with the rank of Officer Brother Associate, and I have very great pleasure in investing you with the insignia of that rank.

MR. TANG SHIU KIN

In recognition of the very onerous financial responsibilities devolving upon you as Chairman of the Finance Committee in succession to Mr. Ho Kom Tong, Knight of Grace, for the services already rendered in this connection; and in expectation of further continued assistance, the Sovereign Head of the Order, His Majesty the King, has been pleased to admit you to membership of the Order with the rank of Officer Brother Associate, and I have very great pleasure in investing you with the insignia of that rank.

MR. IP KWAI CHUNG

You are attorney to Mr. Aw Poon Haw, and were granted the Bronze Donat Badge of the Order in 1934 in appreciation and recognition of the financial services rendered in raising money by theatrical performances, collections and other means, for the furtherance of Medical Benevolent work at Cheung Chau, and the New Territories, North and South. You are now admitted to membership of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, with the sanction and approval of His Majesty the King, Sovereign Head of the Order, with the rank of Serving Brother Associate, and I have very great pleasure in investing you with the insignia of that rank.

THE ORDERS

Very few people are aware that any decorations of the Order have precedence over many other decorations.

The highest Order in the Brigade are Bailiff Grand Cross and Dames Grand Cross followed by Knights of Justice and Dames of Justice.

The next in order is Knights of Grace of whom the following in Hong Kong have received: Sir Cecil Clementi, Mr. Edwin Ralph, Sir William Peel, Mr. Ho Kom Tong, and Sir Robert Ho Tung while Lady Margaret Ho Tung received the Dames of Grace order.

Messrs. Alfred Morris, Chan Tai Kwong and the Hon. Dr. W. B. A. Moore all received the Serving Brothers' Order some time back. Mr. Aw Boon Haw who received rank of "Officer" (Brother) yesterday is still interested in the Cheung Chau Hospital and it is interesting to note that he is still evincing the same keen interest in it. It is understood that this gentleman is contemplating giving further financial support to this Institution.

POLICE TRANSFERS

The following transfers in the Hong Kong Police Force will take effect as from Friday:

Sub-Inspector C. Poyntz from Shamshulpo to Central regular duty, vice Sergeant Rogers from Central to Shamshulpo. Sergeant Hunter from regular duty to plain clothes duty to

SALE OF WORK

At The Helena May

The usual peace and calm of Helena May Institute was yesterday interrupted when a sale of work was held under the auspices of the "Ladies' Auxiliary" in aid of the Society for the Protection of Children.

Lady Southern, O.B.E., in a few well chosen words declared the sale open, and in the course of her speech she said that the proceeds of the sale would be devoted to a very worthy cause, and for that reason she would appeal to one and all for their unstinted support.

A tour of the various stalls which were very tastefully laid out, revealed the fact that the articles on sale were not only useful but really good bargains. A large number of ladies were busy "shopping" and judging by their happy smiles they must have been well satisfied.

STALL HOLDERS

The stall holders were:—Xmas Presents—Lady Shenton and Mrs. Y. K. Chau. White Elephant Stall—Mrs. R. M. Henderson and Mrs. J. Ralston.

Provisions—Mrs. Gubbay, Mrs. Begg and Mrs. Peter Sin. Parcel Wrapping—Mrs. A. Hicks. Tea—Mrs. Maughan, Miss Tso, Mrs. Westlake and Mrs. A. White. Bran Tubs—Mrs. McAvoy and Miss Doris Kotewall. Raffles—Miss Helen Kotewall and Miss Mary Taylor.

POPPY DAY

Appeal For Funds

H.R.H. The Prince of Wales, who is the Patron of the British Legion, made a remarkable speech on the occasion of the National Whitbread Conference of the British Legion, 1935. Here is a short extract from it concerning Poppy Day 1934 at Home:

"Considering the weather, was the worst that we ever had, the results of Poppy Day were nearly as good as they were in the previous year. We must always stress the importance of Poppy Day, and never relax our efforts on its behalf, because, with the gradual winding-up of the United Services Fund, the responsibilities of the Legion are growing, and the calls upon our funds—owing to the advancing age of ex-Service men—are not diminishing."

HARMSTON'S CIRCUS

Children will be more than delighted to learn that the famous, Harmston Circus is returning to the Colony for their customary stay here, and will be giving performances in about a week's time, so the "Daily Press" was informed if all arrangements for their circus show, go according to schedule.

It was stated that Harmston has obtained lease of the vacant plot or ground opposite the old Children's playground at Chatham Road, on the Kowloon waterfront, which is the property of the Metropolitan Lands Ltd. It was confidently stated that this year's show will be better than ever, for besides the wild animals that have always featured their programme, new artists and performers have been signed on. It is expected that the first programme, with matinee and night performances will open approximately on November 7.

NEWS FROM CHINA

BRITISH ENVOY WILL PROCEED TO CANTON

Shanghai, Oct. 29. As soon as negotiations between Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, chief economic adviser to the British Government, and Chinese government and financial leaders here come to a conclusion, the British envoy will proceed to Canton, according to Japanese circles to the South. Some, believing that considerable difficulties face the British delegation in its moves here, attach much significance to the visit of the mission to South China, where British interests are generally regarded as enjoying exclusive advantages.

During its stay here, the British mission is expected to conclude investigations into the assets and liabilities of the Chinese treasury as well as Nanking's internal revenue. (Union News.)

RELIEF BONDS

Nanking, Oct. 29. It is reported here that the issuance of $20,000,000 flood relief bonds by the Ministry of Finance originally commenced from November 1 will be postponed, in view of the fact that the regulations governing issuance have not yet been submitted to the Legislative Yuan for approval. (Central News Agency.)

GENERAL CHANG ARRIVES

Nanking, Oct. 29. General Chang Chun, Chairman of Hupeh Provincial Government, arrived here from Shanghai this morning.

Shortly after his arrival, General Chang interviewed the Central authorities to report on Hupeh political administration and the flood relief work now undertaken in that province. (Central News Agency.)

LIBRARY ENTERPRISE

Shanghai, Oct. 29. Commissioned by the Ministry of Education, Mr. Hsiang Chueh-min, Director of the National Peiping Library, left here for England this morning by the Italian Liner, to investigate the library enterprise in that country. (Central News Agency.)

NEW HEADQUARTERS

Chungking, Oct. 29. The Chungking Provisional Headquarters of the Generalissimo will be formally inaugurated early next month, according to information from local political circles. Part of the staff members of the Generalissimo's Provisional Headquarters at Nanchang and Wuchang has been transferred to Chungking. (Central News Agency.)

LOCAL ESTATES

Mr. Bowes-Smith's Will

Local estate to the value of $115,900 was left by the late Mr. Aubrey Maurice Bowes-Smith, the well known exchange broker, who died at the War Memorial Nursing Home on September 25 this year. Probate of the will and a codicil was granted to the widow, Mrs. Katharine Margery Bowes-Smith.

In his will dated August, 1931, Mr. Bowes-Smith appointed his wife and Mr. S. S. Perry, of Prince's Building, as executrix and executor respectively, and the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation as trustees.

He bequeathed:

$2,000 to his son William Aubrey Bowes-Smith, if and when he shall attain the age of 21;

$2,000 to his daughter, Miss Joan Margery Bowes-Smith, if and when she shall attain the age of 21;

$2,000 to his clerk, Ah Pun; $200 to each of his richa cooiles;

An annuity of £80 to his mother, Mrs. Alfred Smith, of Meadowbrook, Hildenborough.

The remainder of the estate, coupled with all his personal effects, including motor-cars and musical instruments, were placed

DINNER PARTY TO GENERAL YEN

Nanking, Oct. 29. General Yen Hsi-shan, who recently came here to attend the forthcoming Sixth Plenary Session of the Central Executive Committee after 7 years absence from the Capital, had a long interview with Mr. Sun Fo, President of Legislative Yuan, and Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Finance, this morning.

At 6 o'clock this evening, General Yen was entertained by Mr. Chiao Yi-tang, Vice-President of Judicial Yuan, at a dinner party. (Central News Agency.)

DAMS TO BE DESTROYED

Hsuechow, Oct. 29. In a petition to the Government Authorities, the Kuanyun populace urge the main dams along Lutun River, Paigen River and the east bank of Yen River to be destroyed, so as to ease the flow of the Yellow River flood waters now gathered in Kuanyun District.

The congestion of large volumes of flood waters in various waterways in Kuanyun, the petition points out directly that it is responsible for the present inundation of vast area, lying between the south bank of the Yen River and the border of Hsuechow District. If more flood waters should be accumulated, there would be a grave danger of complete inundation of the district. (Central News Agency.)

RESTRICTION ON OUTFLOW OF SILVER

Nanking, Oct. 29. The Ministry of Finance has granted a permission to the customs of Canton, Swatow and Chulchow, all in Kwangtung, to carry restriction or the outflow of silver from Kwangtung, as ordered by the Kwangtung Provincial Government.

Passengers will not be allowed to carry more than $10 of silver coins from these ports. The excessive amount will be confiscated. (Central News Agency.)

REVISED DRAFT

Nanking, Oct. 28. The revised draft constitution, which has recently passed by the Legislative Yuan, has been prepared in form of a yellow-book and will be submitted to the forthcoming Sixth Plenary Session of the Central Executive Committee. As soon as the draft was passed by the Central Executive Committee Session, the resolution will be brought before the coming Fifth Kuomintang Congress and the People's Congress for discussion. The constitution will come into effect after it is adopted by the People's Congress. (Central News Agency.)

OBITUARY

The many friends of Mr. Gus d'Aquino will learn with deep regret the death of his aunt, Miss A. d'Aquino at the age of 54 years which occurred at the French Hospital yesterday morning following upon a prolonged illness.

The deceased lady had been ailing for the last 2½ years and was admitted to hospital on and off during this time. Her demise did not come as a surprise to the many friends.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Mr. E. H. d'Aquino, I.S.O., at one time connected with the Stamps Office, G.P.O. She leaves behind two brothers and sister E. G. d'Aquino; J. G. d'Aquino, Mrs. H. T. Jorge of Hong Kong and a brother Mr. L. G. d'Aquino of Manila besides many other relatives to mourn her death, and to whom the deepest sympathy is extended to them in their sad bereavement.

The funeral took place yesterday evening at the Roman Catholic Cemetery and was very largely attended. There was also many floral tributes.

In the hands of the Trustees for the benefit of his wife.

Local estate to the value of $31,200 was left by Mr. Godfrey Godfrey Bird, late of St. Edmunds, Scope, Norfolk, who died at the above address on April 6, 1935.

An application by Mr. G. G. N. Tinson, the lawful attorney, for sealing certified copy of grant of probate of the will was allowed.

HONG KONG, OCTOBER 31, 1935.

HONG KONG

Although the Hong Kong Travel Association is still very much in its infancy it is indeed to be congratulated in that it is such an active infant. When the idea was first mooted some of our more pessimistic citizens shook their heads sadly, expressing the opinion that such a scheme would not work here and that it would be a waste of time and money to go on with it. It will be recalled that at the time we strongly supported the scheme and we are now even more firm in our belief that the Hong Kong Travel Association is filling a long-felt need in the Colony. It might not be generally realised that in this matter—as in every other matter—the Colony is deplorably behind the times, but we have been so used to this defect that we are ready to overlook it, being quite content that a start has actually been made. How the Association proposes to launch its campaign we do not, at the moment, know, but it is believed that a systematic "attack" will be made on not only the neighbouring countries but also the far off lands in the endeavour to place Hong Kong before the public eye. This of course can be done in numerous ways but in this connection we must stress the fact that unless the people of Hong Kong themselves lend their unstinted support, a publicity campaign, no matter how elaborate, would lose half its value. There are a number of people who go away every summer and they would be the best ambassadors for boosting Hong Kong. There is no use denying the fact that our summer can be really vile but against this the climate during the cool season is as near perfect as may be desired; in short Hong Kong during the winter is an ideal holiday resort. We have so often mentioned the many things that the Colony has to offer that there seems to be little necessity to enumerate them again. The Travel Association has hit upon an exceedingly happy plan of telling the world all about this and the work in this direction is proceeding rapidly. We refer to the Magic Carpet film that is being made by Mr. Bonny Powell of the Fox Film Company. Last week-end Mr. Powell "shot" the dinner dance at the Hong Kong Hotel, the acknowledged rendezvous of the Colony's elite. Visitors with a partiality for dancing will see for themselves when the picture is shown what an ideal place is the Hotel. Then on Tuesday Mr. Powell chose Repulse Bay, commonly called the Riviera of the Orient by round-the-world tourists, as his locale and no doubt other beauty spots will also be "shot." Nor has Mr. Powell lost sight of the fact that "local colour" is essential in a film of this nature so that when Hong Kong is presented to the critical film world, not only our beauty spots but also "native Hong Kong" will be very much in evidence.

FIGHT ON VESSEL

An assault that took place on a vessel moored in mid stream, in which one of the participants received a stab wound at the base of his neck and another was sent to the asylum for observation, has been brought to the notice of the Police.

The assault was stated to have taken place yesterday afternoon, on board the s.s. Wong Ping, moored at buoy A4, when a tallyman named Wo Kit Kuen, aged 36, of No. 48 Bonham Strand West was attacked by another Chinese male named Chan Chun Muk aged 33, who inflicted a stab wound on the neck of the former.

The wounded man was sent to the Kowloon Hospital where he is being detained for treatment, while his assailant was sent to the Government Civil Hospital for observation, it being alleged that he is insane.

MARRIAGE OF SCREEN ACTRESS

Shanghai, Oct. 30. Mayor Wu Tieh-cheng announced to-day that he will officiate at the marriage of the screen actress Miss Butterfly Woo with Mr. Pan Yu-shing, millionaire clubman on November 23. The ceremony will take place at the Civic Centre in Kiangwan.

High Nanking officials are showering Miss Butterfly Woo with wedding presents. The honeymoon will be spent in Foochow, native home of the bridegroom, and later at Hong Kong. [Union News.]

SWITZERLAND ELECTIONS

Berne, Oct. 29. In the Swiss elections, a new party, known as the Duttweier Group, has won seven seats. It advocates a reduction in food costs by equipping lorries to tour the country as "shops on wheels."

The Socialists are again the largest party, with 50 seats, but the Government, "bourgeois bloc," consisting of Radicals, Catholics, Peasants and Liberals together secured 117 out of the total of 187 seats. [Reuter.]

SENSATION IN SHANGHAI

Mr. Linde Shoots Himself

MR. GOODWIN INJURED

Shanghai, Oct. 30. A sensation was caused here by a shooting tragedy this afternoon when Mr. E. Linde a well-known Club man and lawn bowls player, was alleged to have shot three at his prospective son-in-law, Mr. R. H. Goodwin, during a heated argument, after which he shot himself, dying an hour later. Mr. Goodwin was sent to hospital in a very serious condition.

Mr. Linde is believed to have invited Mr. Goodwin, who is a schoolmaster at the Public School for Junior Boys, to his home to dissuade him from marrying his daughter.

A heated argument ensued, followed by the shooting, after which Mr. Linde went to the telephone to inform the police. Meanwhile Mr. Goodwin managed to creep outside and call for help. While Mr. Goodwin was being taken to the Country Hospital, Mr. Linde locked himself in the bath room and killed himself with a shot through his temple. [Reuter.]

DELEGATES TO CANTON

Nanking Seeking Pact

Nanking, Oct. 30.

The President of the Examination Yuan, Mr. Tai Chi Tao, and the Mayor of Nanking, Mr. Ma Chao Chun, are expected to fly to Canton in the next few days, in an attempt to reach an understanding with the South-West leaders concerning the National Kuomintang Congress, which is being held on November 12.

The two leaders are understood to have agreed to undertake the mission, and the date of their departure will be decided after the meeting of the Central Executive Committee on Thursday.

It is semi-officially stated that with a view to consolidating internal solidarity, they will impart to the C.E.C. members sojourning in the South-West the views of the Central Government, and also obtain the former's views for consideration of the Congress. [Reuter.]

JAPANESE THREATS TO OCCUPY ULAN BATOR

Shanghai, Oct. 29.

While Moscow advices said the Russian Soviet government was alarmed over purported Japanese threats to occupy Ulan Bator, or Urga in Outer Mongolia, the Japanese foreign office in Tokyo professed to be without information as to such threats.

Moscow was said to be awaiting further clarifying dispatches on the situation growing out of the demand of Japan and Manchoukuo to station diplomatic representatives in "closely-guarded" Mongolia, a protectorate of the Soviet.

The threats were said to have been voiced at the conference in progress since June at Manchouli, on the Manchoukuo-Russian border, between representatives of Outer Mongolia and Russia on the one hand and of Manchoukuo and Japan on the other.

The foreign office admitted however that Manchoukuo was pressing its pending proposal to exchange diplomatic representatives between Hsinking and Ulan Bator.

Moscow, which holds the same relation to the Mongolian Peoples' Republic as Japan does to Manchoukuo, has strenuously opposed the admission of any Japanese into Outer Mongolia, though having scores of consular officials in Manchoukuo.

Soviet dispatches claimed a Russian platoon commander was slain in a border dispatch of October 12 when it was said 40 Manchoukuans and Japanese penetrated two kilo-meters past the border of Outer Mongolia. [Union News.]

CHINESE AMBASSADOR TO JAPAN

Nanking, Oct. 30.

Reports are current here to-day that General Chang Chun, Chairman of the Hupei Provincial Government, will become the next Ambassador to Japan in succession to General Chiang Tso-pin, who is returning here from Tokyo. Ambassador, Chiang is likely to become Minister of Foreign Affairs.

General Chang Chun is acceptable to the Japanese General Staff, being a graduate of the Tokyo Military Academy and an ardent supporter of Sino-Japanese "co-operation." [Union News.]

VIGOROUS ATTACK ON GOVERNMENT

Lord Snowden Supports Mr. Lloyd George

London, October 30.

Lord Snowden, who was Chancellor of the Exchequer in the last Labour Administration and in the first National Government retiring after the 1931 election, made an attack on the policy of the present second National Government in a broadcast speech last night.

He said, he spoke as an independent politician by courtesy of the Liberal leaders, to whom three election broadcasts have been allotted.

He urged that Liberalism should be well represented in the new Parliament and that where Liberal candidates supported the programme of the Council and Peace and Reconstruction initiated by Mr. Lloyd George they should be supported, while in straight contests between the Government and Labour candidates the electors should vote against the Government.

He denounced the Government for misusing its mandate by imposing protection and repealing land values taxation.

He declared the Government had displayed cruel complicity in regard to unemployment and he criticised its foreign policy which he said had encouraged Signor Mussolini in the early stages of the Abyssinian dispute.

He repudiated the assertion that the fighting forces were indifferent. The dominating question in the election, he said, was unemployment which he asserted demanded courageous action and b.g. schemes, in which connection he commended Mr. Lloyd George's proposals as well-considered plans. [British Wireless.]

LOYD GEORGE

London, Oct. 29.

The seventy-two-year-old statesman, Mr. David Lloyd George, waging war upon the National Government, was in fine fighting fettle when, wearing a sprig of white heather in his button-hole, he addressed the Council of Action for Peace and Reconstruction to-day.

On behalf of their programme as expressed in the title they had given themselves, he sought the support of the electorate, he said. The Council had received, he said, a favourable answer to its questionnaire from a great many Liberal, Labour and even Nationalist parties candidates, and their names would be published in a few days. The Council would do its best to secure their return irrespective of party.

Mr. Lloyd George attacked the Government for holding an election in the present emergency and inveighed against international inaction. They had waited until Signor Mussolini had completed his warlike and economic preparations before even discussing sanctions. Sanctions, he added, were not going to prevent Italy sending troops or war material to Africa. "Sanctions were too late and they will be ineffectual. They will not stop the advance of Mussolini's army by one hour nor save one Ethiopian life," he declared.

LABOUR CONFIDENCE

The Labour Opposition is displaying increasing confidence in its election prospects and leading officials anticipate the capture of at least 150 National party seats, says Lord Snowden. Mr. Lloyd George, even, could not figure higher. However, it should be noted that even with 150 gains the Opposition will still be much in the minority. [Reuter.]

TOOL OF FRANCE

Continuing Lord Snowden declared that Sir John Simon's mis-handling of the Disarmament Conference, as the tool of France, drove Germany from the League of Nations. The present hectic conversations meant that the Powers were trying to find out what price Signor Mussolini would take to desist from his lawless adventure.

Mr. Baldwin's statement about the inefficiency and obsolescence of the Navy was inaccurate. The present expenditure on the fighting forces costs 2s. 6d. in Income Tax; what it will cost when the Government has filled in a blank cheque, I dare not think," said Lord Snowden.

Concluding, Lord Snowden said he was firmly convinced that to give the Government another uncontrollable majority would be a national calamity. [Reuter.]

The usual peace and calm of Helmsley May Institute was yesterday interrupted when a sale of work was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary in aid of the Society for the Protection of Children. Lady Southern O.B.E. in a few well chosen words declared the sale open, and in the course of her speech she said that the proceeds of the sale would be devoted to a very worthy cause. [Page 7.]

Several mut-wei prosecutions came before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday, Inspector T. O'Connor prosecuting. Lo Yuet, 28, widow, of 231 Queen's Road East, third floor, was fined $5 for failing to report the death of the former employer of registered mut-wei, Lui Choi-in, aged 17. [Page 6.]

The late Mr. Aubrey Maurice Bows-Smith, the well-known exchange broker, who died at the War Memorial Nursing Home on September 23 this year, left local estate to the value of $115,900. Probate of the will and a codicil was granted to the widow, Mrs. Katharine Margery Bows-Smith. [Page 7.]

Charged before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday with unlawful possession of 71 cabbies of wild wood at Island Road, Chan Hung, 27, unemployed, was bound over. Mr. J. E. Carr, of the Botanical and Forestry Department, stated it was dead wild wood. "People were making a habit of walking along the catchwater cutting trees." [Page 6.]

Chan Chi-ling, 62, unemployed, convicted last week on a charge of deceiving a boy, aged three years and three months, from outside 43 Staunton Street, made another appearance before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Police Court yesterday, when Mr. R. C. H. Lim applied for a re-hearing of the case. The prisoner was sentenced to one year. [Page 6.]

JEWISH COMPLAINT IN HARBIN

Shanghai, Oct. 30.

The charge that White Russians were continually mistreating the Jews, was made to-day by Mr. N. E. B. Ezra, editor of Israel's Messenger, in a letter to the press.

He appeals to Manchukuo "not to permit its flag to be sullied by foul deeds of oppression and persecution" and cites several "outrages," such as a raid on a synagogue in August and the detention of twelve leading Jewish merchants during the visit of the Emperor, and search of a rabbi's home on October 7, the Jews' most sacred day.

He accuses the newspapers Harbin Skovo, Vremya and Nashput of inflaming anti-Semitism by means of slanderous lies. [Reuter.]

Mr. J. A. Ribetto, of No. 13 Ashley Road, has reported to the police that while his wife was on her way to church at 6.30 a.m. yesterday, she lost her rosary beads somewhere along Hankow Road. The beads are stated to be of 18-carat gold and worth $50.

Mr. J. Young of the China Light and Power Co., Ltd., reported to the police yesterday that while driving his car along Fife Road, a Chinese girl suddenly ran across the road and was knocked down. She sustained slight injuries which did not require medical attention.

ITALIANS MAKE AERIAL OBSERVATIONS OF MAKALE

Abyssinians Firmly Entrenched

FORWARD PUSH IN THE NORTHERN SECTOR

Magalo In The South Heavily Bombed

Asmara, October 30.

Aerial observations disclose that the Abyssinian Central Government forces are now occupying Makale. The strength of the garrison is not known, but it is believed that they are strongly supported by machine guns.

The forward push of the Italian Northern Army was initiated on October 26 and has resulted in Italian occupation of territory delineated south of the Takkaze River and tributary of the Malwara.

The Second Army Corps reached the valley of the Firfirra, a tributary of the Takkaze, with little resistance although there was considerable sniping on the outposts at night time.

As the result of the three-day drive the Italians have entered a terrain where there is an abundance of water and they have strategically and tactically improved their position.

Hostilities have been going on continuously during the month in the little known sector in South-west Eritrea where the River Setit forms the frontier. The country is tropical and low-lying, alternating with swamps and plantations and abounding in wild animals.

It is denied that the Abyssinians have succeeded in invading Eritrea. It is stated that Italian native irregulars are holding a fifty-mile river front opposed to a number of Abyssinian bands each of five hundred warriors. The Italian machine gun posts are cleverly camouflaged in the bank and open fire as any Abyssinians are sighted and keep on harassing attempts to bring their flocks to the water.

MAGALO DESTROYED

Asmara, Oct. 30.

The town of Magalo situated 215 miles southeast of Addis Ababa has been almost completely destroyed by incendiary bombs dropped by Italian bombing planes attached to General Graziani's Army, operating on the Southern frontier, according to despatches here which add that this exploit is causing consternation in the Abyssinian capital.

Terrible panic is reported to have taken place in Magalo where the bombs set fire simultaneously to several parts of the town, which was described as "fortified". The State garrison suffered terrible losses, and abandoned the town, seeking shelter in the neighbouring hills, but the fugitives were promptly pursued and mown down by well-directed machine gun fire from the planes, which on their way back bombed and destroyed the Abyssinian munition factory on the bank of the Fafan River, near the headquarters of the Commander-in-Chief, General Nasibu.

No Italian casualties are reported.

NEWS FROM CAPITAL

Addis Ababa, Oct. 30.

Although no news came from the Northern frontier on Wednesday forenoon, informed quarters here assert that the rate of developments on both fronts are proceeding at comfortable rate and in accordance with the Emperor's strategic plans.

Important events appear to be imminent in Danakil region where large Abyssinian forces are stated to be advancing on Mount Moussa Ad with the object of cutting off the Italian troops entrenched there and who are impeding the railway communication between the Capital and the coast. The number of Abyssinian troops in this region is estimated to be 40,000, who are said to be supported by bands of irregulars operating in Eritrean territory.

The new road which is being constructed parallel with the railway from Addis Ababa to Dire-dawa is now nearing completion. This road which will be substituted for the railway in case of need, will join in the vicinity of Harrar and Jijiga on the ancient caravan route leading to Port Berbera in British Somaliland.

ADVANCE IN SOUTH

Rome, Oct. 30.

The Italian Southern Army in Abyssinia, which is now advancing northwards in three columns, made considerable progress during Tuesday, according to a report received here from the headquarters of the Southern Army.

The first column is reported to be advancing along Juba River, the second column in the valley of Webbe-Shibell, and the third from Walwal.

It is believed here that the three columns after having established contact with each other south of Gorahai will jointly attack that strongly fortified city.

The Abyssinian troops, it is said are retreating slowly, and evidently are being concentrated at Gorahai, where large scale operations are expected to take place.

TANKS IN ACTION

Rome, Oct. 29.

Tanks, supported by bombing planes yesterday, went into action on the southern front according to a communique from the southern army headquarters.

This message says the tanks attacked the Ethiopian positions in front of Shillave, on the right wing.

The Italian army is advancing up the Webbe Shibell River basin in conditions most unfavourable to battle, owing to the rain and poor visibility. But it is claimed that the action thus far has been successful.

The Ethiopians are reportedly continuing their retreat on the Ogaden front generally, with the apparent intention of making a stand in the hills.

FASCIST NEW YEAR

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 30, 4.30 p.m.)

Rome, Oct. 30.

Signor Mussolini received the head of the Fascist party at the beginning of the new Fascist year and was handed his membership card for the 14th year which was numbered 1.

Signor Starace reported to Il Duce that the total membership of the Fascist party now is 8,437,635, that is an increase of 974,928 as compared with last year. The actual fighting leagues number 1,375,000 members, of which 740,000 are young Fascists.

NAVAL ATTACK DANGER

French Note No Britain

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 30, 7.30 p.m.)

Paris, Oct. 30.

A supplementary note, clarifying some of the points in the French Note of October 18, was transmitted to the British Government on October 26, according to Pertinax in the "Echo de Paris".

The new note, so Pertinax claims, reiterates the verbal assurances given to the British Ambassador and stresses that the British Fleet may in the event of an unprovoked attack by the Italian warships in the Mediterranean, count on the support of the French Navy.

The note is also stated to stress that Franco-British solidarity should not only be limited to the sea, but should extend to the land and air as well.

Pertinax believes that a certain number of the British warships will be withdrawn from the Mediterranean in consequence of the Franco-British understanding and that both powers agreed that outside the case of unprovoked attack France will only be required to resort to arms against Italy in the event of common decision being reached to this effect by the League of Nations and receiving the approval of the French Government.

DEFENCE AGAINST SANCTIONS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 30, 4.30 p.m.)

Rome, Oct. 30.

In defending itself against the effects of sanctions Italy is following the principle of dispensing with the import of all goods originating in the countries applying the sanctions.

It is hoped that now that coal is obtainable from England import from other countries will be increased.

Large shipments of frozen meat from Argentina and Brazil enable the rationing of the population to be carried out without resorting to greater restrictions on consumption that were announced on Tuesday.

A contract with Brazil has just been signed in Rome assuring a supply of 33,000 tons of frozen meat in addition to a contract for 22,000 tons signed in July.

FARMAN BROTHERS BOMBERS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 30, 4.30 p.m.)

Paris, Oct. 30.

The Farman Brothers, famous airplane builders, have just spent 8,000,000 francs in transforming and modernising their works where 1,800 workers are now being engaged in making giant bombers in all-metal.

The first of 24 bombers of a new model will be ready at the end of the year, the regular rate of production being from now onwards one bomber every five days. The model is a four-motored Centaure which has crossed the South Atlantic several times.

ENFORCING SANCTIONS AGAINST ITALY

Committee To Fix Date Of Application

London, October 30.

The Minister for League Affairs, Mr. Anthony Eden, accompanied by other members of the British delegation will leave London this afternoon for Geneva to attend to-morrow's meetings of the Committee of Eighteen and Co-ordination Committee of Fifty-two which will have before them the replies of the states members of the League to the proposals for enforcing various sanctions against Italy.

A large number of notifications of applications of League sanctions or of readiness to apply them on a date to be fixed by the Committee of Co-ordination have been received by the Secretary General of the League, although the number of states absent from the list is still considerable. Forty states have put an embargo on arms into force and financial sanctions have been applied by thirty-one states.

The Committee of Co-ordination will decide the date of application of two of the most important sanctions, namely prohibition of importation of Italian goods and prohibition of export to Italy of certain key products. So far only twenty-seven governments have declared their willingness to apply these sanctions.

It is probable, however, that the replies from a number of other states will be received before to-morrow's meeting. At Geneva a date between November 10 and 15 is regarded as the most probable for universal application of economic sanctions.

British Wireless.

London, Oct. 29.

It is understood that proposals which emerged during the recent Franco-Italian diplomatic exchanges, and which might have provided a basis for conciliation to bring the hostilities in Africa to an end, have been the subject of closest examination in London from the point of view of determining whether they offered any hope of fulfilling the conditions repeatedly stated by the British Government as, in their view, essential namely that they should be in consonance with the spirit of the League Covenant and acceptable to Ethiopia as well as to Italy.

These conditions are a matter of common agreement between the French and British Governments and the recent proposals, which have also been submitted to joint study of British and French technical experts in Paris, are not regarded as conforming to these essential requirements.

Possible terms for an agreed settlement, such as the French and British Governments would feel able to bring to the notice of the League as suitable for recommendation to the parties of the dispute, have therefore not emerged from the recent exchanges, and stories in circulation connecting the Foreign Secretary's visit to Geneva with such possibilities may be completely discounted.

Sir Samuel Hoare's decision implies the desire of the Government to put the fullest weight behind British co-operation at Geneva with other League Powers in establishing a loyal and united effort to make effective action under the Covenant on behalf of peace and to shorten the war between Italy and Ethiopia.

British Wireless.

EARLY HOPES DASHED

Paris, Oct. 29.

What purports to be an inspired article upon the progress of international peace negotiations, appears in the Paris Soir to-day.

It states that British and French representatives met on Sunday and agreed on a series of suggestions which will first be submitted to the British Government and then transmitted to Rome.

These suggestions allegedly contain proposals for the effective control of several Ethiopian provinces by Italy, but do not include Harrar, Aksum or the Western provinces, as the Emperor would certainly oppose any concessions in that direction it is felt.

Reuter learned later, however, that the conversations in Paris between British and French experts did not result in any agreement to submit suggested formulae either to Italy or the League of Nations. There is complete agreement between Britain and France that the present proposals are of no practical value.

Peace soundings by Italian sources and conversations with France may continue but there is no question of either Britain or France taking steps without the League Council's sanction or likelihood of three-Power conversations.

MOVING TOWARD SANCTIONS

London, Oct. 29.

The Minister for League Affairs Mr. Anthony Eden leaves London to-morrow to represent Britain at the meeting on Thursday of the League's Committee of Eighteen and the Co-ordination Committee of Fifty-two which a fortnight ago respectively approved and recommended to States members in series of five proposals the measures to be applied under the League Covenant in view of the Italian resort to war in Ethiopia.

The Committee of Eighteen will have before them the draft report prepared on the basis of the replies of States members in regard to the proposals for prohibition of exports from League States to Italy of certain products of importance to her in the prosecution of her military campaign and for the prohibition of all imports into League States from Italy. In passing the report to the Co-ordination Committee, the Committee of Eighteen will have to suggest the date to be appointed for concerted application by League States of these measures. It is thought likely that the discussion in the Co-ordination Committee may last two days, and during this period Mr. Eden will be joined in Geneva by the Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare.

LONG TALK

Rome, Oct. 29.

Signor Mussolini and Sir Eric Drummond, the British Ambassador, conferred for over an hour to-day, but the outcome of their talks was not disclosed. An official spokesman said that diplomatic contacts would continue, but no peace proposals were yet under consideration.

Italian disappointment at the fruitlessness of peace talks was reflected in one of Signor Gayda's articles to-night in which he called against France for her failure to gain more support for Italy.

He says that Britain and France which "derived such great benefits from Italy's sacrifices during the Great War had re-established their Versailles co-operation to prevent Italy's necessary colonial expansion."

Gayda concluded with a warning that Italy must subordinate her friendship for another country to her own needs and interests.

STAVISKY SCANDAL ECHOES

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 30, 7.30 p.m.)

Paris, Oct. 30.

The former Police Inspector Bony, who gained such notoriety in connection with the Stavisky scandal and the mysterious death of Judge Prince, who only last week was sentenced to six months imprisonment, for "divulging professional secrets" again faced the court on Tuesday on charges of bribery.

This time he was found guilty of having let a Lithuanian adventurer and gambler pay his tailor's bill amounting to 4,000 francs after Bony had succeeded in preventing the execution of an expulsion order issued against the Lithuanian.

Bony was sentenced to three years, and the Lithuanian to two years imprisonment and both defendants were put on probation.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE RESULT

Favourite Unplaced

London, Oct. 30.

Mr. J. P. Hornung's Pegasus, favoured to win the Cambridge-shire, over a distance of a mile and a furlong, disappointed supporters when the race was run at Newmarket to-day and the horse failed to get a pace in a field of 40.

The following was the result:—
Commander III (Hawcourt) 1
Man's Pal (Wing) 2
Finalist (S. Wragg) 3
Commander III, carrying betting odds of 28/1 passed the post a length and a half ahead of Man's Pal (100/1), which in turn beat Finalist (6/1) by a short head for second place.

Commander III is owned by Mr. G.R.C. Foster, Man's Pal by Mrs. V. D. Sainsbury, and Finalist by Lady Ralli.

STATEMENT BY MR. EDEN

Chinese Criticism

London, Oct. 30.

Dr. C. C. Wang, President of the China Association in London, in a letter to the "Times" pilloried Mr. Anthony Eden's assertion in the Commons on October 23 that the "essential conditions for collective action against Japan in 1932-33 were absent."

Dr. Wang asks what happened in Manchuria and Shanghai if it was not resort to war? And why did Japan leave the League if it was not because she was declared the aggressor?

Mr. Eden's statement that the machinery for sanctions against Japan never arose as a question for the League to decide misconstrues all other facts leading up thereto.

ROYAL WEDDING GIFTS

London, Oct. 29.

The Lord Mayor of London to-day drove in state to Buckingham Palace and presented to the Duke of Gloucester and Lady Alice Scott the wedding gifts from the City of London. He was accompanied by sheriffs and members of the Corporation.

Sir Stephen Killy presented an address of congratulation and the gifts, and the Duke thanked the Lord Mayor, on behalf of Lady Alice and himself. The Duke and Lady Alice also received deputations from the Royal Borough of Kensington and the City of Westminster.

BASKET BALL

Nanking, Oct. 28.
Nanking Kuo Ti basket ball team defeated Philippine overseas Chinese basket ball team in a match played at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Officer's Moral Education Association grounds by scores 38-33.
Kuo Ti team displayed excellent team work, the overseas five distinguished themselves by fast passing, but missed several chances of scoring owing to poor shooting.

More than 2,000 basket ball fans witnessed the match, the proceeds of which will be appropriated for the flood relief purpose.

The overseas five will meet the basket ball team of the Central Kuomintang Headquarters at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

ATHLETIC PROGRESS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Shanghai Oct. 24.

The Sixth National Athletic Meet which was concluded here on October 20 was certainly a great success, viewed from every angle, declared, Dr. Philip K. C. Tyau, Consul-General at Singapore who accompanied the Malayan athletic delegation to the national meet, in an interview with pressmen yesterday.

The unprecedented large crowds that flocked to the newly built magnificent stadium at the Kiangwan Civic Centre to witness the youthful athletes display their physical prowess, Dr. Tyau averred, show keen public interest and enthusiasm in sports which have now been universally recognized as a necessary part of national life.

There is marked improvement in sports technique among Chinese athletes, judging from the excellent records that have been set in the track and field events at this meet. Women athletes especially, said Dr. Tyau, have made a good showing in ball games as well as in other events, unknown to Chinese women in our grandmothers' days.

RATIONAL CHANGE

Concluding, Dr. Tyau remarked that there were many instances which indicated a rational change in the public concept of sportsmanship which, in his opinion, is a very gratifying sign of steady progress in physical education in this country.

Dr. Tyau is a keen sportsman. During his early college days he was captain of the Christ College, Cambridge, tennis team and member of the College association football team. He was on several occasions champion of International Tennis tournaments in Peking and once won the open singles championship of North China at Tientsin.

TWO NEW RECORDS BY COBB

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Mr. John Cobb, driving the 500 h.p. Napier Ralston in which he recently broke the world's 24 hours and other records in America, yesterday regained the Brooklands outer circuit lap record which was taken from him last August by Mr. Oliver Bertram.

His speed was 143.44 m.p.h., or 84 miles per hour faster than Bertram.

Cobb also established a new flying kilometre record at the highest speed ever attained at Brooklands, 151.97 m.p.h.

Mr. Cobb's records at Bonneville, Salt Flats, Utah, in July were:

134.7 m.p.h. for 24 hours, 152.7 miles in one hour.
50 Kilometres at 154.46 m.p.h.
50 miles at 153.6 m.p.h.
100 Kilometres at 153.13 m.p.h.
100 miles at 152.95 m.p.h.
200 Kilometres at 153.24 m.p.h.

AUTHORS' CLUB DINNER

Sir James Barrie Speaks

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Sir James Barrie made one of his rare appearances in public last night, and spoke for exactly 30 seconds. Then he rang a bell to stop himself from saying any more.

He was presiding at a dinner given at the Authors' Club in London in honour of Mr. Morley Roberts. In front of him was a silver inkwell and a silver quill pen. The pressing of the end of the pen into the inkwell well causes a bell to ring.

It is the club's signal for no more speech-making, and Sir James used it effectively on himself.

His little speech came at the end of the dinner after members had sung the first verse of "Auld Lang Syne." "I was just about to sing you the extra verse when behold our secretary came and put this into my hands," said Sir James, as he held up the pen.

"He had already told me that at 9.30 p.m. I was to play 'dab' on this little hole and that that would ring the bell and that that would end the proceedings." Sir James paused and said, "The fates are against me." With that he sat down.

SIR ARTHUR KEITH'S TRIBUTE

Mr. Horace Annesley Vachell proposed the health of Mr. Morley Roberts, who, in his reply, referred to his early struggling days when he was destitute in San Francisco. "I sometimes think what a great thing it would have been if I could have had this dinner when I had no money, nowhere to go, and no friends," he said. "I have known what it is like to walk for three nights without a place to sleep."

"When I first heard that people were going to give me this dinner I thought what a pity it was that they did not send it to me in those days in San Francisco. (Laughter.) I could have eaten it then, but quite frankly I could not eat it to-night for fear of having a nightmare."

Sir Arthur Keith, in a tribute to Mr. Roberts' scientific work, described him "as one of the most outstanding of living men," and added "instead of us being able to teach him, he has been able to teach us. If fiction and literature have lost a great deal we have gained a great deal."

10,000 MILES TO PRISON

Woman's Trip to Face Life Sentence

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Early this morning a woman will arrive at Tilbury after travelling 10,000 miles by rail, road and sea. She has come all the way from Shanghai to go to prison. With her are two police officers and a nurse.

She is Mrs. Katherine Hadley, a Russian born woman of British nationality, who was sentenced to death for the murder of a British mercantile marine officer two years ago.

Her sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life, and she has come to England to serve it in Holloway Gaol.

Prisoners are very rarely removed to England from the colonies, and the transfer involves a special warrant from the Home Secretary.

A widow who took British nationality in 1919, Mrs. Hadley was discovered at midnight in the house of Captain Walter Clifford Youngs, who lay dead on the floor with knife wounds in his throat.

There were signs of a desperate struggle.

During her trial at the British Court, Shanghai, there was a tense moment when one of Mrs. Hadley's neighbours, a Russian barber, described how he saw her rise from a chair and stab Captain Youngs after she had smashed some crockery with a knife.

For irritable Children

In the "Strand Magazine" of March 1933, the well-known food expert, Miss Kathleen Dane, writes:

"Many children of the irritable, nervous type, owe their state to a deficiency of organic salts, particularly calcium, notwithstanding the fact that the dietary appears to be properly balanced. Such youngsters do well when the diet is reinforced by a well-retained mineral food, such as 'Kalzana,' which medical men all over the country are now recommending."

Your quickly-growing child needs extra calcium to help the formation of straight bones, healthy teeth, and a strong constitution. Start your boy or girl on a course of Kalzana—you will be surprised at the all-around improvement Kalzana effects. Irritability disappears, appetite returns and soon the formerly "difficult" child will be a happy, healthy youngster again.

THE HSIANGHO INCIDENT To Be Settled Soon

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Peiping, October 25. The situation at Hsiangho, a town in the Demilitarized Zone, about 40 miles south-east of Peiping, has returned to normal following the seizure of the town by some 3,000 farmers.

The farmers early this week laid siege to the town as a protest against the additional land tax levied by the authorities. They entered Hsiangho two days ago. A detachment of the Peace Preservation Corps was sent to Hsiangho and normal conditions have now been restored.

Mr. Chao Hsi Liang, magistrate of Hsiangho, who fled from the city when the rioters entered the town arrived here the night before last. He called on General Shang Chen, chairman of the Hopei Provincial Government, yesterday afternoon and submitted to the latter a detailed report on the circumstances leading to the incident. He flatly denied that any new land tax had been imposed in his district. The magistrate further stated that the trouble was engineered with an ulterior motive, and their demand for the new land tax was made as a mere pretext.

PREARRANGED AFFAIR
According to an eyewitness who arrived here from Hsiangho last night, the present disturbance there was premeditated and instigated by a few of the local gentry. On entering the city, the eyewitness further related, the farm rebels immediately disarmed the local police force. The city was then plunged into utter confusion when the magistrate and other responsible officials fled from the town, and all shops closed their doors. After the arrival of the Peace Preservation Corps, however, the situation has been eased.

Reports reaching here to-day indicate that the rioters are still in possession of the city. An Hou Tsai, moving spirit of the agitation and now provisional magistrate of Hsiangho, has refused to hand over his duties to Mr. Liu Yuen Tun, councillor of the Hopei Provincial Government who has been commissioned by General Shang to visit the scene of disturbances to investigate into the matter.

MEASURES DISCUSSED
Meanwhile, measures for the settlement of the incident were discussed at a meeting of the Peiping Branch Military Council held under the chairmanship of General Pao Wen Yueh. Following lengthy deliberations, it was decided to entrust the Hopei provincial government with the responsibility of handling the incident.

General Shang yesterday afternoon called at the Japanese Embassy to explain the circumstances of the Hsiangho affair. He informed the Embassy that pacific means would be employed to settle the case.

HOME OF SMUGGLERS
(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Tientsin, Oct. 23. In connection with increasing smuggling activities along the Peiping-Tientsin Railway, information from well-informed sources discloses that the smugglers have their headquarters at Tungio city near Shanhaikwan.

It is learned that both incoming and outgoing smuggling activities are directed from Tungio where some 400 unlawful businessmen are busy daily transporting smuggled goods from outside the Great Wall to North China and vice versa.

Information from the same source states that all these smugglers are under the protection of certain foreign nationals, thus making the situation rather hard to control.

FREE SCHOOLS Education For All Children

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Changshu, Oct. 23. Early this year, the Executive Yuan approved a set of 16 regulations governing the introduction of free elementary education for children of school age throughout the country during the next 10 years. In financing and extending the programme the Ministry of Education needs all the possible assistance of the Central Government as well as Provincial Government. According to a conservative estimate there are some 28,000,000 children of school age who are at present not in school. Assuming that the cost of a year's free elementary education for one child is $5, some $700,000,000 is needed for the first period of five years, or about $140,000,000 a year. The appropriation of $2,400,000 made by the Central Government for this fiscal year therefore falls short of the amount needed. Thus, the various provinces and districts must provide the greater part of the money needed, if the programme is to be carried out.

Following instructions from the Ministry of Education, a Provincial Free Education Publicity Week is now being held in Changshu under the sponsorship of the Provincial Government. A five-year programme has been drawn up by the Provincial Department of Education which aims at providing about 220,000 children of school age with a one-year education within the period.

Free schools, it is learned, will be established in all cities and districts, while in small villages where funds and facilities are not sufficient to meet the requirements for the opening of regular schools, classes will be held.

BRIEF ADDRESS
At the inauguration ceremony of the publicity week held yesterday at the Chungshan Hall of the provincial Government, Governor Ho Chien delivered a brief address in which he emphasized the importance of promoting universal education in China. The effect of education upon a nation is immense, General Ho said, as the strength or weakness of a modern state depends in no small measure upon the intellectual standards of the people which of course depends on the progress of popular education. In the present critical moment, General Ho concluded, it is all the more imperative that China loses no time in promoting and pushing forward its free education programme.

Kiang An.

Interviewed, prior to his departure General Chang stated that he had received information to the effect that both the Sixth Plenary Session of the C.E.C. and the Fifth Kuo-Min Tang Congress would be held as scheduled.

Mr. Tsai-Yuan Pei, Kuo-Min Tang veteran and President of the Academia Sinica, left Tientsin yesterday afternoon for Shanghai aboard the s.s. Sheng King on his way to Nanking to attend the Sixth Plenary Session of the C.E.C.

SPECIAL DELEGATE
Mr. Lin Chih-Ping, special delegate of the Canton-Hankow Railway Party, Headquarters, left Hankow last night for Nanking to attend the forthcoming Fifth Kuo-Min Tang Congress.

LEPROSY IN AFRICA Ten Million Victims

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

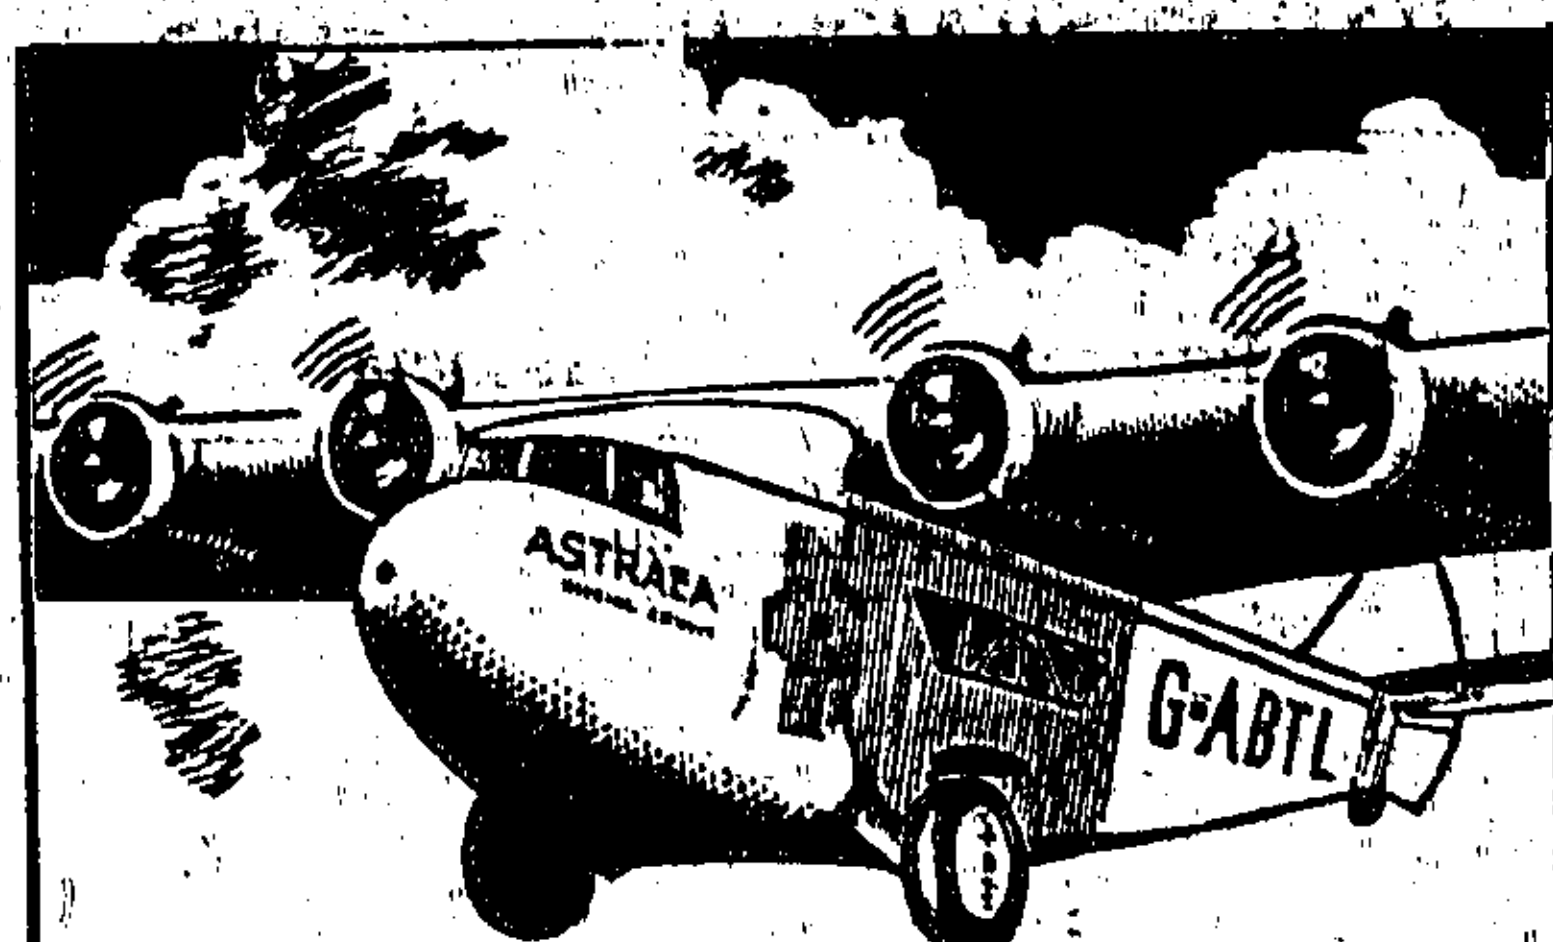

The appeal made by the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Westminster to-day at a Mansion House meeting in aid of the St. Francis Leper Guild was most effective, because his duties in the past few years have taken him all through Africa, and he has seen the heroic work his Church is doing in its leper settlements in half a dozen countries.

He described the misery of these forlorn people, friendless and often destitute, and the change in their whole outlook when they were befriended. He praised the devotion of doctors and nurses who lived and worked cheerfully in scenes and conditions that he only endured during brief visits, and he paid special tribute to two women of outstanding ability and devotion, one of them a German woman doctor now working as a Benedictine sister at a leper settlement in Tanganyika.

APPEALS
Money and doctors and nurses were needed, he said, to extend the work among the millions of lepers in Africa and other countries. The exact number is not known, but the Archbishop said it might be ten millions, and he pointed out that one and a quarter million of these lepers lived in the British Empire. Approximately one hundred cases were known in England, but there might be many more, for notification of the disease was not compulsory.

Appealing specifically for financial help for the St. Francis Leper Guild, which makes annual grants to 38 leper asylums and also keeps lepers in England, the Archbishop said that many fine churches were being built, but as long as he realised the needs of the living stones of God's church he would not ask for a penny for elaborate churches.

Sir Leonard Rogers, president of the Royal Society of Tropical Medicine, said the time was ripe for this country to start a campaign to stamp leprosy out of the British Empire as enthusiastically as it had stamped out slavery.

FAVOURABLY IMPRESSED

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Shanghai, Oct. 19.
"I have been most favourably impressed with the manner in which cases, both criminal and civil, are handled in the courts of China under Chinese jurisdiction," Judge Edwin F. Hahn, former presiding judge of the Superior Courts of Los Angeles, told pressmen at an interview yesterday morning. Judge Hahn stated that he had visited courts both in North China and here, and that he had certainly been surprised to see these tribunals so modern and efficient. He expressed further surprise when told that the First Special Court handles an average of more than 100 criminal actions daily. The Judge and Dr. Fong See, former director of Rotary International, attended the hearings of several cases that were in session during the course of their visit, and later, the Judge called on Dr. Yun-Kuan Kuo, president of the First Special District Court, to pay his respects.

NORTH CHINA PROBLEMS

American Views

Shanghai, Oct. 30.
Japanese official threats to sever North China from the Nanking government's control, unless the latter "co-operates" were accepted here as possibly foreshadowing another Japanese military adventure in China, according to Washington despatches.
It was recalled that Japan's various adventures since the Mukden incident in 1931 have been timed co-incidentally with various world crises which permitted the Japanese to carry out their programmes when there would be the least possible chance of international interference under such instruments as the Nine Power treaty, the Briand-Kellogg Pact and, for the time being, the League of Nations, under the League Covenant.
The latest development in the Orient were interpreted in Washington as possibly to test out international reaction and domestic opinion in Japan, preparatory for some new move.
The American attitude towards any such adventure presumably would remain the same. The Stimson Doctrine to declining to recognize any situation created by forceful invasion still stands. However, the State Department has shown no inclination against making repeated protests which have always proved futile and served only to invite resentment in Japan.

That's one thing we are troubled with back in the United States," Judge Hahn declared that he had resigned from the bench and is now making a leisurely trip around the world. He was appointed to the superior courts of California in 1921 by the Governor of the state, and served the last two years of his appointment as a justice protem of the District Court in California.
Judge Hahn and his wife are leaving Shanghai on the President Garfield next Tuesday. He will travel from here to Canton, Hong Kong, Manila, Bali and other important centres in the south.

MR. DERN IN CANTON

Chinese Leaders Entertain

Canton, Oct. 30.
Mr. George H. Dern, Secretary of War of the American Government, and his party arrived here this morning aboard the armed yacht Isobel and were received by high Chinese officials at the Municipal Reception Building.
The weather was kind to Secretary Dern and his party, for although they landed in the rain, the skies cleared up to enable the visitors to see Canton at its best.
Mr. Samuel J. Fletcher, American Consul, was host to the party at luncheon in the consulate. At 4 p.m. Mr. Dern and his entourage attended a tea party given by the South-west Political Council at the Tungshan Aviation Club.
To-night General Chen Chitang and Chairman Lin Yun-kai will be hosts to the distinguished American guests at dinner in the Municipal Building. The party will leave Canton at 2 p.m. tomorrow for Hong Kong to board the U.S.S. Chester for Manila.

TEA EXPORTS

Trade With Morocco

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Nanking, Oct. 21.

Next to Great Britain and Soviet Russia, Morocco is the largest buyer of Chinese tea in the market. Her purchases are practically confined to green tea, amounting to 7,000,000 kilograms a year.

During 1934, China's tea exports to her three largest customers amounted to as follows: Great Britain 80,000 quintals, of which 82,000 quintals were black tea, Morocco 68,000 quintals, all green tea except 198 quintals, and Russia 155,000 quintals, comprising 134,000 quintals brick tea, 18,000 quintals black tea, and 3,000 quintals green tea.

The green tea exported to Africa is specially treated and unlike that consumed in China in flavour. In centuries past, green tea sold to Africa turned black and became spoiled due to the slow modes of transportation. Chinese traders learned to process all tea destined for Africa with a chemical preservative that enabled the tea to keep green indefinitely. The native learned to drink this preserved tea, and now insist on getting it in spite of the fact that the French authorities forbid its use, alleging the supposedly harmful effects of the preservative to the drinkers.

NO MIDDLEMAN

To improve the export trade of Chinese tea and to combat the middlemen profiteering in the trade, a group of growers in Keesum, Anhwei province, formed a co-operative society in 1933 under the auspices of the Tea Experiment Station of the provincial government. By pooling their capital and cutting out the middleman in all deals, the first Keesum Tea Co-operative Society managed to make a 15 per cent. profit on its first transaction at a time when independent growers were showing losses from their crops. The success of this first organization resulted in the formation of more organizations under similar principles, now totalling 18 for the tea growing districts.

The Tea Testing Bureau of the Ministry of Industry is making great strides in the classification and analysis of Chinese tea. This research body is also making valuable contributions in the way of curing and preserving tea leaves. The results of this last experiment should be of great value, since tea is an extremely perishable commodity, easily affected by external influences such as strong odours and dampness.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS

Although there remains much to be done before Chinese tea can regain its former supremacy in foreign markets, the future of the industry is brightened by the many attempts to rid the industry of its

MORE WORK FOR CLYDE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 10.

Events of the past fortnight have effected a marked improvement in the prospects for employment in the Clyde shipyards this winter. Orders to the value of over £1,000,000 have been received, and several local establishments are now in the happy position of having sufficient work on order to ensure them at least a year's employment. Earlier in the year new work for the yards consisted mainly of small craft, but recent orders have been of a more substantial character, including two motor cargo liners, the placing of which Messrs. John Brown and Co. is announced to-day, and the three 12,000-ton tankers ordered from Clyde firms at the week-end.

THE BUSIEST SHIPBUILDERS

Messrs. John Brown and Co., Clydebank, have now the busiest shipbuilding and engineering establishment on the Clyde, and among British firms from the point of view of work on hand, they are second only to Messrs. Harland and Wolff. The Clydebank yard has five ships on order, but no fewer than eleven ships are under construction at the Belfast works of Messrs. Harland and Wolff, who have undoubtedly the busiest shipbuilding establishment in the world when their Clyde and London works are included. The Clyde shipyard of the Belfast firm has five ships on hand, while at their North Woolwich works some 40 barges and lighters are in course of construction.

mediate adjustment is the inadequate packing to which Chinese tea is subjected. Not only do the cases in which the tea is packed vary in size but they are often made of inferior material, thus affecting the contents. Japanese tea, on the other hand, is all packed in cases of uniform size, 17 "X17" X20", each weighing about 70 catties. Improvement in the Chinese tea export trade may well start with the adoption of this method of packing.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

MESSRS. ROZA BROS

The price for Ready silver was unchanged yesterday at 29 5/16 but the Forward rate dropped 1/8 to 29. Advices reported India and China as having sold America bought for spot. After the official fixing America was a further buyer for spot and there was some speculative buying for forward.

In America the rate was unchanged at 65 1/2 for spot.

The London/New York cross-rate was 1/8 higher at 49 1/2 and the New York/London rate dropped 1/8 to 49 1/2.

Market

Rates were nominal at the opening. Subsequently the market seemed somewhat demoralised with sellers reluctant to quote for forward deliveries except at a substantial difference. Shortly before the close a sharp re-action took place closing on the steady side.

Sterling

Opened with buyers at 1/10 15/16 with a small business done at 1/10 1/4 for near and 1/10 13/16 for spot followed by transactions at 1/10 1/4 for early November and cash. The selling rate then rapidly dropped to 1/10 1/4 with business done at that rate for cash and early November and 1/10 1/4 for November. The demand persisted and business was arranged at 1/10 1/8 to December and 1/10 1/4 for near delivery. Shortly before the close the market re-acted and business was done at 1/10 1/4 for January and February, 1/10 1/4 for 3/16 for December, 1/10 1/4 for January/February, 1/10 1/4 for November and 1/10 1/4 for cash and December. The market finished with sellers at 1/10 1/4 for October, 1/10 1/4 for November, 1/10 1/4 for December and 1/10 1/4 for January/February, buyers probably at 1/16 higher respectively.

U.S. Dollars

There were buyers after the opening at 47 but the rate rapidly dropped to 46 1/2, at which rate, some business was done for near delivery. Subsequently 46 1/2 was also reported for December. The market closed with sellers at 46 1/2 for October, 45 15/16 for November, 45 1/2 for December and 45 9/16 for January, buyers probably at 1/8 higher respectively.

Shanghai Dollars

Nominal. Sellers were quoted at 146 for near delivery.

Shanghai Market

Opened with sellers at 1/3 11/16 and then collapsed to 1/3 for near. The market re-acted later closing at 1/3 5/16 for spot. U.S. Dollars—opened with sellers at 32 1/2 and then weakened to 30 1/2. The market closed steadier at 31 1/2 for spot.

Now is the time to visit Australia & New Zealand lands of Sunshine and Romance. "Down Under" you will feel a new being and even if you are not inclined towards Surfing, Fishing, Shooting or Mountaineering you will find that the Antipodes have plenty to offer you, including 24 hours for your pond.

On the way down your life aboard will be as you wish, quiet or hectic for the E. & A. will humour your every whim.

And by the way, there is no additional charge for Deck Cabins, and there is of course a Star Deck Swimming pool, an Orchestra and a fine Laundry.

A Surgeon and Stewardesses are at your disposal and last but not least—we had almost forgotten—the cuisine will set you listening eagerly for the Gong.
